MARIN'S MUDFLATS SHOW

Moon Tugs Tides Out

Unusually low tides in the San Francisco Bay this morning have sparked speculation that they were the lowest of the century.

Other guesses place them at the lowest in 75 years and the lowest in 50 years, but officials were unable to confirm any period of time.

Several longtime residents of Marin County, prodding their memories for a similar low, couldn't go back far enough. Many mentioned minus 2.0 feet as the rarest low they could recall and this morning's figure was minus 2.1 feet.

High tide today was to be 4.8 feet and tomorrow's high, to occur shortly after midnight, will be 6.7 feet. The tide fluctuations in the bay, because of lunar action, are ranging this year from 10 to 30 per cent higher than the normal 5.7 feet, a spokesman for the U.S. Coast and Geodetic Survey office in Rockville, Md., told the Independent-Journal.

The low tide was most noticeable in yacht harbors where some of the small vessels rested on mud this morning. Many were completely out of the water.

Larger ships were able to sail, but the San Francisco Bar Pilots Association said docking might be a problem. "They might have to wait awhile," a spokesman said.

Fishing fleets went out as usual this morning, Ocean Traders of Sausalito said.

The coast and geodetic survey office told the Independent-Journal there are a number of moon variables combining at the same time and these are causing the low tides and unusual fluctuations.

The spokesman said the moon was at its maximum perigee position, closest to the earth, yesterday. It was also full and in a straighter line with the sun, exerting more pull on the tides.

Today the moon will be at its extreme southern position and the node factor of the moon is at its maximum position. The earth-moon line of apsides (a line linking lunar orbit points of greatest and least magnetic attraction) almost exactly coincides with the earth-sun line of apsides, adding to the tidal effects.

He said several of these factors will also combine in December and cause higher than normal tide fluctuations.

STORMY TIBURON SESSION

Planner Sought; Pay Not Yet Set

The City of Tiburon, which incorporated four years ago for "better planning," last night added the position of planning director to its salary schedule.

In a meeting which ran almost six hours, about three hours were spent in a sometimes stormy discussion of the salary schedule, which finally was adopted by the council, adding the new position, without recommendations as to salary or persons to be considered.

The state's Municipal Code requires the city to adopt a salary schedule by June 15. The schedule includes ranges of pay for each position and step increases of 2.5 per cent. Mayor William R. Bremer said "range adjustments" are made on a merit basis, as recommended by department heads "under the purview of City Mgr. Lawrence D. Rose."

Branwell D. Fanning, chairman of the council's finance committee, said "We feel we can bring in a budget within the present 60-cent tax rate," if the structure of positions on the schedule was not changed too much. (See also Tiburon City Council stories on page 20.)

Tiburon's payroll will probably run more than $76,000 next year. This year's payroll for all salaries, except sheriff's deputies, totals $59,760. Proposed raises for various employees for next year total $14,432. The salary schedule includes two new positions, a maintenance man starting at $495 monthly and a police clerk at $471 monthly. It also will include a yet unknown salary for the planning director.

Tiburon's contract with the sheriff's office for police services for this year is $55,620.

City salaries range from $483 monthly for public services clerk, Mrs. Doris Levine, to $855 for the superintendent of public works, Louis F. Brunini.

A debate ensued as Rose suggested the position of the present planning consultant, George Gatter, be expanded to a full-time one.

But Councilman Denis T. Rice asked, "Why not a full-time planning director?" Councilman Fanning replied that, with overhead expenses, could run between $28,000 and $30,000 yearly. Gatter presently earns $300 a month. Councilmen figured it would cost around $10,800 to employ him full time.

Mrs. Nikki Lamott, of 34 Linda Vista, said she was "disturbed by piecemeal planning in Tiburon" and favored hiring a planning director. She was backed up by Mrs. Polly Smith, chairman of the parks and recreation commission, who said she spoke only for herself.

Mrs. Jacqueline Parnell, former councilman, also agreed and felt the salary of planning director had been exaggerated. She said "You want an urban designer. We have more unbuilt open space than any other city in the county. We need someone to

NOVATO GOES WILD WEST FOR WEEKEND

Novato's 13th annual Western Weekend will begin at 6 p.m. tomorrow when the carnival opens at the Western Weekend grounds on San Marin Drive off Highway 101. Western Weekend festivities will continue through 6 p.m. Sunday.

Highlights of the five-day celebration include the annual rodeo on Sunday, the parade on Saturday, the carnival buckaroo breakfast, beard contest, melodrama and cross country race.

A 16-page special section in today's Independent-Journal outlines the schedule of events and contains photographs and stories about the festivities.

Supervisors Back Strict Gun Controls

By WAT TAKESHITA

The state Legislature should enact "effective gun control legislation" during the 1968 session on a priority basis, the Marin County Board of Supervisors declared today by unanimous resolution.

Supervisor Peter H. Behr, who made the motion, warned that anyone who speaks up for stronger gun control laws "will be the target of a flood of abuse" by vicious letters and anonymous phone calls and must be prepared to "stand up and fight and not retreat when the going gets tough."

He recalled that the last time he suggested stronger gun control, he was bombarded with telephone calls and letters, calling him a communist and casting aspersions on his ability as a lawyer.

While the supervisors were calling on the Legislature for strict gun control legislation, Gov. Ronald Reagan at his regular press conference in Sacramento was warning against passage of such controls.

Reagan said, "What is needed is better use of existing laws by the courts." He said some improvement in the laws might be made, such as lengthening the waiting time between pur-

Cong Start Day Saigon Shellings

Rockets Kill 19 Civilians

SAIGON (AP) — The Viet Cong switched to daytime bombardment of Saigon today, slamming some 30 big rockets into the heart of the city during the morning rush hour. The barrage killed at least 19 Vietnamese civilians and wounded 106.

It was the heaviest casualty toll—and the first major daytime bombardment—since the Viet Cong began almost daily shelling of the capital 38 days ago. The barrages have killed at least 128 persons and wounded 519.

KNOCKS OUT LINES

The six-foot 122mm rockets exploded in the vicinity of major government buildings but did little damage to most. However, one landed on the roof of the government communications headquarters and knocked out most telecommunications abroad, including lines leased by a number of American firms.

One round slammed into Kennedy Square, spraying dirt into the Roman Catholic cathedral through doors open for morning Mass. The shell landed a few yards from the 20-foot statue of the Madonna.

The barrage began about 6:15 a.m., and a little more than five hours before Gen. William C. Westmoreland relinquished his command of U.S. troops in Vietnam and left for Manila, Honolulu and Washington.

FAREWELL TALK

Westmoreland told a farewell news conference yesterday it was almost impossible "to stop the indiscriminate firing of a few mortar rounds, a few rocket rounds, in consideration of the wide open and very chopped up and difficult country around Saigon."

The rockets were fired from a rice paddy area about six miles due east of the center of the capital. Counter artillery fire was directed at the area, and just after the barrage troops of the U.S. 11th Armored Cavalry Regiment swept the area.

The Viet Cong apparently have rocket units on all sides of Saigon, having shelled the capital from the north, west and south as well as the east. A U.S. spokesman said it would take at least four divisions of troops to throw a protective circle around Saigon seven miles out, the maximum range of the big Russian rockets.

BLOODY RIOTING

Students, Police In Sorbonne Clash

PARIS (UPI)—Riot police today conducted a three-hour siege of Sorbonne University where 4,000 students holed up after a night of bloody rioting in the Latin Quarter.

Police tear gas and concussion grenades shattered windows and splattered walls of the Sorbonne facade and students hurled back Molotov cocktails.

Student spokesmen said grenades exploded in classrooms and faculty halls, injuring 20 students, five seriously. Police broke off the siege three hours after dawn but remained on the alert nearby in blue riot squad cars.

Several riot police also were injured. Strikers captured a police truck at one point, burned it and seized rifles from it.

At Sochaux in Eastern France police battled strike pickets and one person identified only as Beylot, 24, was killed. His death brought to four the number of persons killed since the present French unrest broke out a month ago.

The new rioting broke out in strife-torn France last night as students took to the Latin Quarter's streets to protest the drowning of a demonstrator during an alleged chase by police.

"They have killed our comrade," the students screamed as they hurled paving stones and Molotov cocktails, set fire to vehicles and built barricades. Helmeted police charged eight to 10 deep, swinging their clubs from behind shields, and smashed through the barricades with a bulldozer.

Dozens of students and 26 police were injured in the running fights and 22 students were arrested before the demonstrators retreated into the Sorbonne.

The students called for new street demonstrations tonight.

Peace And Freedom Party Chief, County Aide Argue On Election

Confused polling inspectors in the Marin County Third Supervisorial District may have disenfranchised members of the Peace and Freedom Party during last Tuesday's primary election, party members charged yesterday.

Dr. Warren Levinson, county chairman of the Peace and Freedom Party, complained that the new party's members were prohibited from voting for the candidate of their choice — Rev. Samuel L. Banks Jr.

It almost happened to himself, Dr. Levinson said.

John F. Musser, county elections clerk, denied today that Peace and Freedom Party members were discouraged from voting for supervisor. A check of the voting records at Levinson's polling place revealed that 15 out of 40 Peace and Freedom registrants had voted, all punching their choice for supervisor.

Levinson said he recalled arriving at his polling place, the Community Church on Olive Street, Mill Valley, at 8:30 a.m., to find a female member of the party arguing with the poiling inspector.

In the Peace and Freedom booth, the page for supervisorial candidates had been masked with tape and paper, Levinson reported.

"We were told that we were not supposed to vote in the supervisorial election because that was only for nonpartisan people," Dr. Levinson said.

The doctor said he and the woman finally convinced the inspector that Peace and Freedom members were no more partisan than Republicans or Democrats. The masking was removed.

"The really strange thing, though, is that, when this woman's husband went to the polls at about 6 p.m., the mask was back on. The argument was repeated and he finally got to vote," Levinson said.

Party members in Tiburon and either Tamalpais or Homestead Valley reported the same experience, Levinson said.

The doctor said he is unsure

Truax Gets California, U.S. Terms

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A former government agency executive, already under a two-to-20 year state sentence for gambling away nearly a half million dollars in stolen money, today was given a 10-year federal term.

U.S. District Judge Oliver J. Carter ordered that Thomas Nelson Truax, 26, serve the federal term while in state custody under the sentence imposed yesterday in Oakland.

Truax, former assistant administrator for the Association of Bay Area Governments (ABAG), had pleaded guilty to federal counts of transporting $203,500 in stolen securities from California to the gambling casinos at Las Vegas, Nev.

He previously had pleaded guilty in a state court to embezzling $461,442 in ABAG funds.

Carter said probation officers suggested that Truax did not fully recognize the serousness of his thefts. Carter observed that Truax clearly was the victim of gambling compulsion and that "he has it and has got it bad."

Truax said that he was determined to be optimistic so that after he had paid his debt to society he could return to a useful life.

He said that this determination apparently had been misinterpreted as evidence that he did not realize the gravity of his offense.

Scotland Yard Begins Hunt For Any Ray Money Links

LONDON (UPI) — Scotland Yard today hunted London contacts of the man accused of killing Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

The search centered on persons who may have kept the 40-year-old escaped convict supplied with money before his arrest at London International Airport Saturday.

The hunt spread to Brussels and Lisbon where, according to unofficial reports, James Earl Ray may have been picking up funds funneled through a Swiss bank account.

(In Nashville, Tenn., Gov. Buford Ellington today signed extradition papers for Ray, the accused slayer of Dr. King.

A spokesman for the governor's office said that Ellington forwarded the papers to the U.S. Department of Justice.)

The detectives hunted while U.S. and British government lawyers cooperated in an effort to extradite Ray to America to stand trial for the April 4 slaying in Memphis slaying of the civil rights leader.

U. S. Asst. Atty. Gen. Fred M. Vinson Jr., leading the extradition drive, was aiming for as speedy an extradition as possible—by June 28, legal sources said. But court observers here said the process could run into a long hot summer if Ray exercises his civil rights to the extent of an appeal to the House of Lords, Britain's supreme court.

Johnson To See McCarthy Tonight

WASHINGTON (UPI) —President Johnson planned to confer at the White House tonight with Democratic presidential candidate Eugene J. McCarthy.

The White House said the conference was set up at McCarthy's request. McCarthy announced shortly after the assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy that he would seek a meeting with Johnson in the near future.

The President met with Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, a Republican presidential candidate, today and gave him detailed briefing on the international diplomatic and military situation and the nation's economy.

Both Sides View Possible New Viet Peace Dialogue

PARIS (AP) — The possibility of new moves by the United States and North Vietnam focused attention today on the deadlocked Paris peace talks as negotiators prepared to go back to the conference table after a six-day recess.

The meeting tomorrow will be the eighth between U.S. Ambassador W. Averell Harriman and his North Vietnamese counterpart, Xuan Thuy, since the talks opened May 13.

While no one on either side here expects any major breakthrough for some time, perhaps months, Western diplomats expect occasional tactical maneuvers by Hanoi and Washington of importance to the long-range peace outlook.

Harriman returned last night from a weekend trip to the United States to attend the funeral of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy. He also conferred with President Johnson and if he came back with any new ideas they would presumably begin to show up in the discussion tomorrow. However, Harriman reported he was not prepared to bow to any Hanoi demands.

U.S. diplomats also hope to get some indication soon, perhapes tomorrow, of the significance of the assignment to Paris of a member of the North Vietnamese Communist party politburo, Le Duc Tho arrived a week ago to serve as "special counselor" to Xuan Thuy. He did not attend last Wednesday's meeting, the explanation being that he was tired from traveling. He is expected to show up tomorrow.

Rockefeller Blasts The 'Old' Politics

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller said today he had a new responsibility to run for president because of the death of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

"With his death, a strong hand has fallen away from the torch of freedom in our land," Rockefeller said in a luncheon speech before the National Press Club.

"And so a responsibility rises anew for those of us who remain—not to pull back but to carry forward the great unfinished mission of building a better America."

Kennedy "gave his life for the most fundamental values on which this country is built," the New York governor said. "He died because he dared to speak out on the issues before the American people."

GOV. NELSON ROCKEFELLER
As he talked to newsmen

Rockefeller, seeking the Republican presidential nomination, was making his second speaking appearance since Kennedy's death.

Rockefeller told press club members that America is in a crisis because of the "failure of the old politics and its kind of leadership."

The governor charged: "The men of the old politics do not understand change. They do not comprehend the new realities of American life. They do not appreciate the significance of emerging forces. And they do not seem to care."

Rockefeller did not mention by name any of the "old" politicians. His opponent for the Republican nomination is former vice president Richard M. Nixon. Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey is a Democratic presidential candidate, along with Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota.

Edward Kennedy Role Remains Speculative

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The prospect of Sen. Edward M. Kennedy winding up on the Democratic ticket in November is at this point viewed with outright skepticism by some top associates, who also were close to his slain brother.

Talk of Edward taking a national political role in the aftermath of Robert's assassination last week has been circulating almost from the moment of the shooting. Edward's eulogy to his brother Saturday and the enormous outpouring of public tribute and sympathy served to increase it.

While many mentioned a Humphrey - Kennedy "dream ticket," some friends of the family have even wondered whether the Massachusetts senator shouldn't seek the No. 1 spot himself.

No such talk is coming from any member of the family or from any close associates.

One person very close to both Kennedys said he would be "amazed" if Edward ended up on the Democratic ticket. He called a Humphrey-Kennedy combination "very unlikely."

Another associate of Edward Kennedy labeled all the talk "pure speculation, understandable in the circumstances, but speculation."

"The Senator feels a deep sense of responsibility to the children, to Ethel and to the family," the associate said.

59 Threats Against Life Of Sirhan

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — A total of 59 threats against the life of Sirhan B. Sirhan were received by authorities over the past five days and jailers today maintained strict security around the accused assassin of Robert F. Kennedy.

The telephoned threats, including those from nine callers who threatened to use bombs to break into Sirhan's heavily guarded cell, hit a peak of 29 last Saturday, the day after the suspect was arraigned.

The Sheriff's department, heeding a court-ordered news blackout on pretrial statements, refused to confirm or deny the threats but other sources said the calls included many demanding authorities "turn him over to us."

The sweeping "order republicity" issued last Friday by Superior Judge Arthur L. Alarcon forbids witnesses, public officials and attorneys from discussing the case under threat of contempt of court.

The order silenced most sources except Los Angeles Mayor Sam Yorty who in an interview published in the Manchester (N.H.) Union Leader repeated his contention that Sirhan "was strongly influenced by Communist ideology and was strongly pro-Communist."

Yorty was served with the order yesterday, in his office and he said he "certainly will abide" by it.

Jobs Begin At 40 Today

WASHINGTON (UPI) —As of today, jobs begin at 40.

A new federal law went into effect at midnight which prohibits denying men and women in the 40 to 65 age group a chance to work solely because of their age.

Basically, the new law makes it illegal for an employer to discharge or refuse to hire an individual or to pay lower wage rates on the basis of age.

Union Station in Washington, once the gateway to the capital for millions of railway travelers, will be converted into the National Visitors Center by early 1970.

PAUL SCHRADE

Paul Schrade Did Not See RFK Gunman

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Paul Schrade, the bystander most seriously injured in the assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, says he doesn't know who shot him.

Schrade, 43, western regional director of the United Auto Workers Union, was one of five wounded at the early Wednesday morning celebration of Kennedy's victory in the California primary.

With his head wrapped in bandages, Schrade told a hospital news conference yesterday he was five or six feet from the senator at the time of the shooting, but "I did not see him go down."

Schrade was shot in the head and doctors operated to remove several skull fragments. Hospital spokesmen say that for the time being, doctors have decided against inserting a steel plate into the skull.

Kennedy had been heading for an adjacent room used by newsmen, Schrade said, when "all of sudden, all hell broke loose."

Court Refuses Editor Review On Drug Story

WASHINGTON (AP) The Supreme Court has refused to review the contempt of court conviction of a former University of Oregon newspaper editor and she says she'll pay the $300 fine rather than go to jail.

Mrs. Michael Conard, formerly Annette Buchanan, said yesterday she would prefer to serve a jail sentence on principle, but will pay the fine and remain at her job on the copy desk of the Oregonian in Portland.

She was convicted for refusing to give an Oregon grand jury her sources for a May 24, 1966, story she had written titled "Students Condone Marijuana Use."

The story appeared in the university newspaper, the Daily Emerald, of which she was managing editor.

The Supreme Court refused yesterday to review the conviction.

In other action, the court also limited the power to state and city governments to combat corruption by forcing employees to give information about themselves.

The court ruled unanimously the Constitution forbids dismissal of a government employee for refusing to waive his privilege against self-incrimination and testify before a grand jury.

Thoresen Gun Trial Delayed

FRESNO (AP) — The often postponed weapons trial of millionaire William Thoresen III and his wife, Louise, finally began yesterday but was quickly delayed pending selection of a new panel of prospective jurors.

Attorneys for Thoresen and his wife, who are under federal indictment for illegally possessing a veritable arsenal of weapons and ammunition, won a two week delay after successfully challenging the make up of the master list of jurors.

Earlier in the day Federal Judge William Goodwin of Tacoma denied defense motions for a 30 day delay on grounds that the Robert Kennedy assassination made fair consideration impossible.

Goodwin had previously approved a change of venue to Fresno because of what he described as "prejudicial publicity" in San Francisco, where Thoresen, heir to a Chicago steel fortune, and his wife were indicted on charges of shipping and receiving the weapons in interstate commerce.

House Fails In Tougher Gun Controls

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Judiciary Committee today narrowly failed to approve President Johnson's request for tough new gun control laws. Chairman Emanuel Celler predicted the panel would reverse itself next week.

By a tie vote of 16 to 16, the committee refused to approve a bill that would ban the interstate sale of rifles, shotguns and ammunition.

Congress passed an omnibus crime measure last week that included a provision prohibiting the mail order sale of hand guns.

Celler told newsmen after the closed meeting the committee had agreed to take up the bill again June 20.

"I'm confident that a gun bill will come out of this committee," Celler said.

The ranking Republican, Rep. William McCulloch ,also indicated chances were good for a reversal.

He said he had voted against the bill today on grounds that members didn't have ample time to study it and because the President has not yet signed the first crime measure. But he added that he was the one who moved that it be reconsidered at the next meeting.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said he hoped the new gun control bills would be reported out from committee after a breakfast conference with President Johnson.

Mansfield said there was "a good conversation" at the White House about the gun bills.

"I would hope the judiciary committee can hold hearings promptly, faceup to the issue and report a bill," Mansfield said.

President Johnson has proposed a ban on the mail order sales of rifles, shotguns, and ammunition. The Administration proposal would also limit over the counter sales of ammunition to persons over 21.

A group of House and Senate members, meanwhile, urged citizens groups throughout the nation to put pressure on Congress for tough federal gun control laws.

College Teacher Hiring Bogs Down

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — California's 19 state colleges have been able to fill only 43 per cent of their faculty vacancies for the next school year, Dr. C. Mansel Keene, assistant chancellor of faculty and staff affairs said yesterday.

"Our salary structure and teaching load make it exceedingly difficult for us to compete realistically in today's teacher market," Kenne said.

He said that most qualified teachers on the state college level already have made their plans for the 1968-69 academic year.

To Study Request

A request from the Marin County schools office to place an additional portable classroom at Henry C. Hall School for mentally retarded children will be discussed by the Larkspur School District board at 8 p.m. Thursday. The county currently has one class for retarded youngsters at the school.

'TOWN MUST MATURE'

Sumbardo Reads Fairfax Farewell

Resigned Fairfax City Administrator David J. Sumbardo last night read a long farewell statement at the city council meeting exhorting Fairfax citizens to cooperate for future progress.

The council, a moment earlier, had postponed decision to recruit a replacement for him.

Sumbardo lauded the city council that served during his three-year term for its "courage and foresight" in creating a general plan, design review board, street resurfacing program, fire and building code enforcement program, and other accomplishments.

He urged that the city follow the general plan and especially the downtown plan to revitalize the commercial area.

After other recommendations, he stated:

"Finally, the town must mature and put an end to the hate and selfishness that has become so apparent in the past year. It is almost unbelievable for me to try the account for all the rumors, some humorous, others vicious, that have spread like wildfire around this community on every possible subject.

"This type to thing accomplishes nothing. It only prohibits the city from concentrating on what is important — making Fairfax a better town in which to live . . .

"How does Fairfax see the future? The people of this town might . . think of something . . Robert Kennedy said: 'Some men see things as they are and say why. I dream of things that never were and say, why not?"

Sumbardo's statement drew warm applause from the audience of about 75.

Earlier, Councilmen Francis P. O'Connell, Cornelis Van Vliet and Mayor Robert R. Souza had overridden attempts by Councilmen Frank J. Egger and Mrs. Adelaide Wilson to start a search now for a new city administrator.

Egger and Mrs. Wilson warned that city affairs would become dissarrayed after Sumbardo leaves.Souza denied this and supported O'Connell's plea for time to examine the city's needs for the postion.

Sumbardo resigned effective June 26 to take a postition with a Chicago firm of consultants on public administration.

Fairfax Heeds Marchers' Protests On Market Noise

Responding to demands from about a dozen citizens who marched into the meeting with painted placards, the Fairfax City Council last night voted to spend up to $500 for sound readings of the noisy refrigeration system at Short Stop Market, 1601 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

Led by Mr. and Mrs. George R. Weddleton of 18 Kent Avenue, adjacent to the market, the marchers sought legal action from the council against the market.

City Atty. Wallace S. Myers told the council that it could proceed against the market under provisions of the state penal and civil codes and the Fairfax code, but warned that without expert analysis of the noise it would be proceeding in the dark.

The market is in an area zoned for commercial buildings. The Weddleton home and those of the other marchers are in a residential zone.

The citizens complain that warm weather causes all three engines in the refrigeration system on the market's roof to turn on, awakening them during the night.

Weddleton, whose two children, aged 18 and 30 months are frequently disturbed by the system, reminded the council that the U.S. surgeon-general recently issued a warning against the harmful effects of excess noise.

The council decided to compare the cound readings with ordinances in other cities to gauge its legal position against Short Stop, and with an eye to drawing up a Fairfax commercial noise ordinance.

The Fairfax City Council Also:

GARBAGE — Received a proposed ordinance from Myers allowing collection of garbage at rates increased from $2.25 per month on level land to $2.50 and from $2.50 to $2.75 on hillside lots. It put the matter on the June 18 agenda.

TENNIS — Referred to the park and recreation commission an offer by the Fairfax Tennis Club to install lights on the city tennis courts if the city will provide the materials.

DRUGS — Received a letter from Marin County Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos commending Police Chief James Orr for help in the drive against drug abuse in Marin.

GOLDEN GATE — Declared its support of bills introduced by Assemblyman William T. Bagley (AB-855) and State Sen. John F. McCarthy (SB-527) to dissolve the Golden Gate Bridge board and form a new authority to deal with all Golden Gate traffic; urged greater Marin representation than on present bridge board.

Indiana Driver Injured In Crash

A 39-year-old Indianapolis, Ind., man was injured last night when his auto struck a parked car on Francisco Boulevard in San Rafael.

Robert L. Shirley was treated at Marin General Hospital for a forehead cut.

He told police he swerved to avoid an oncoming car at about 11:30 p.m. in the 500 block of Francisco Boulevard and struck the rear of a parked car belonging to G and R Motors, 345 Francisco Boulevard, San Rafael.

Spock Denies Draft Evade Counseling

BOSTON (UPI)—Dr. Benjamin Spock testified today at his antidraft conspiracy trial that he was never in the "business" of counseling young men to evade the draft.

However, the pediatrician-author said he twice counseled young men when they sought his advice on resisting the draft, once in Cleveland and once in New York. He said he told them they would be "foolish" to resist the draft.

Testifying for the second day in U.S. District Court where he is on trial with four others, the 65-year-old Spock said:

"I believe it was wrong for me to try to persuade anyone to resist the war. I was always addressing myself to the public in general. I was not in the business of counseling young men."

The white haired pediatrician sat erect with his hands in his lap as he replied to questions from his attorney, Leonard Boudin.

In his first day of testimony yesterday, Spock had accused the United States of "creating thousands of orphans who will grow up to be delinquents without parental guidance."

Sharing the government indictment with the 65-year-old Spock are Rev. William Sloane Coffin Jr., 43, chaplain of Yale University; Mitchell Goodman, 44, an author and teacher from Temple, Maine; Marcus Raskin, 34, codirector of the Institute for Policy Studies in Washington, and Michael Ferber, 23, a Harvard graduate student from Buffalo, N.Y.

"I believed that we were destroying a country that never intended us any harm," Spock testified yesterday. "We have killed hundreds and thousands of civilians, women and children and created thousands of orphans who will grow up without parental guidance."

Southern Marin Thefts Reported

Sheriff's deputies in Southern Marin reported three thefts during the weekend.

Saturday night or early Sunday, a purse owned by Linda C. Cimoli of 30 Linda Vista, Tiburon, was stolen from a parked car at the Ark at Waldo Point. The purse was later found near St. Andrew Presbyterian Church in Marin City. Stolen were her wallet and two credit cards. The purse contained no money.

Sunday morning, Paul B. Weierbach of Kappas Yacht Harbor, Gate 6, Waldo Point, reported the hubcaps stolen from his car. The hubcaps were valued at $105.

Hub Driver Arrested In Car Collision

A San Anselmo man was placed under a citizen's arrest on suspicion of drunken driving Sunday after he reportedly walked away from a head-on collision.

The California Highway Patrol reported that John R. Doherty, 31, of 839 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, was driving his car on the wrong side of Bon Air Road, east of Marin General Hospital, when the car collided head-on with one driven by David L. Page, 18, of 210 Laurel Grove Avenue, Kentfield at 3:45 a.m.

A passenger in Page's car, Robert W. Snyder, 15, of Menlo Park, had minor injuries but refused hospitalization, officers said.

According to the report, Doherty walked away and was picked up by police a few minutes later on Hidalgo Road in Larkspur, with blood on his face. Returned to the scene of the accident, he was arrested by Page and taken to the county jail by highway patrol officers. He refused hospitalization for minor injuries.

Released on bail of $345, he is to appear tomorrow in Marin Municipal Court.

Blaiberg In Hospital With Liver Ailment

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (UPI)—Dr. Philip Blaiberg, the world's longest surviving heart transplant patient, has suffered a "relapse" from a liver complication and fluid around his heart, spokesmen for Groote Schuur hospital said today.

The condition of the 58-year-old retired South African dentist is "causing doctors some concern," a hospital bulletin said. Sources at the hospital said Blaiberg's pulse rate had weakened.

Members of the surgical team of Dr. Christiaan Barnard, the pioneer South African heart transplant surgeon, rushed to the hospital. Barnard, himself, was in London and he scheduled a flight back to Cape Town today.

(In London, Barnard said Blaiberg has hepatitis—inflammation of the liver—but said his condition is "not critical." He added, however, "I am disappointed that this has happened but I have not give up hope.")

Blaiberg, who received the heart of a 24-year-old man Jan. 2, had entered the hospital June 1 for routine medical progress tests. He was in good condition at the time and drove himself to the hospital.

Six of the world's 21 heart transplant patients still are living. In addition to Blaiberg, two are in Houston, Tex., one in France, one in England, and one in Sao Paulo, Brazil.

Meanwhile, Frederick West, 45, Britain's first heart transplant patient, fought for his life today against a chest infection which attacked him over the weekend.

National Heart Hospital said a slight improvement West showed last night "has been maintained."

RAY

Foreign and Home Offices, Vinson yesterday secured from London's chief magistrate a provisional murder-extradition warrant.

That warrant meant Ray would be held here pending a full extradition hearing in court. Legal sources said the U.S. murder case against Ray would be heard in court Thursday.

If the magistrate decides the case is strong enough, he would grant a full-fledged warrant. The Home Office then could—and probably would — order Ray's extradition to America. However, Ray can appeal the magistrate's ruling and that could mean months of court fights, the observers said.

Frank Milton, London's chief magistrate, granted Ray a court-apponted lawyer

Frank Milton, London's chief magistrate, yesterday granted Ray a court-appointed lawyer, Michael Dresden. At the same 82-second hearing Milton ordered Ray held until June 18 on the technical arrest charges—that of holding illegal passports and a pistol without permit when arrested at the airport.

Ray himself was said to have been moved yesterday from Brixton Prison, a jail for minor criminals and persons awaiting trial, to Wandsworth Prison, a maximum security lockup in the British capital.

Office Request Is Turned Down

The Corte Madera Planning Commission last night turned down a request from Earle and Solvason Inc. for a real estate office at 626 Tamalpais Drive, which is in a residential district.

The commission also denied a request from the Co-Op Shopping Center for two freestanding signs, but allowed one 85-square-foot sign to be erected facing Highway 101.

A freestanding sign asked for by the Hyatt Coffee Shop on Casa Buena Drive was approved.

Commissioners approved design review applications for an addition to Marin Country Day School, portable classrooms at Neil Cummins School and a playground at the Uplands Apartments.

John Gates was reappointed by the commission to serve another term on the board of adjustments.

Drivers Given Fines, Probation

A Marin Municipal Court jury deliberated five hours late yesterday, then convicted James Andrew Munday, 38, of drunken driving.

Judge Peter Allen Smith fined Munday $289 and placed him on two years probation. Munday, of 25-A Circle Drive, Tiburon, was arrested by sheriff's officers on Tiburon Boulevard April 2.

Thomas John Raftican, 44, of 380 Quietwood Drive, Marinwood, was fined $250 and placed on six months probation by Judge Hadden W. Roth, also for drunken driving. California Highway Patrol arrested him April 7 on Highway 101.

Convicts Hold 20 Hostages In U.S. Prison

ATLANTA (UPI) — Four convicts seized 21 hostages—six of them women—in a blazing attempt to break out of the massive Atlanta federal prison today and barricaded themselves in an office when the escape failed.

Several gunshots were fired but Warden O. G. Blackwell said "No one has been injured up to the present time."

Five hours after the escape attempt, one of the six women hostages fell ill and was released, Blackwell said—leaving 15 men and five women under the guns of the convicts.

The Bureau of Prisons in Washington said the hostages included civilian clerks, guards, and "possibly an associate warden."

The prisoners held their hostages in the top floor of a two-story entrance annex at the front center of the gloomy prison, one of three maximum security prisons in the federal systems.

pull the pieces together."

Councilman Anne L. Ellinwood referred to a memorandum she sent the council proposing the elimination of the positions of assistant to the city manager, held by Russell L. Melquist and of development administrator, held by Phil V. Scott, to provide for the hiring of a full-time planning director.

She said the city "has outgrown the hybrid position of development administrator," which includes the position of building inspector. "All I'm asking the council to do is take a new look at this position," Councilman Ellinwood said. "I don't like the sloughing off of job descriptions by the city manager." She also challenged the fairness of some of the range adjustments, which move workers to different salary ranges to achieve raises.

She questioned whether the city should pay $50 a month to raise Sheriff's Lt. William Johansen to the rank of captain, as previously approved. Lt. Johansen's salary of $1,058 is paid under a contract with the county.

She unsuccessfully urged the council to postpone adopting the schedule for two weeks to get more facts and figures and re-examine some positions. Councilman Thomas E. Drohan supported her request for job descriptions as did grocer and long-time Tiburon resident Fred R. Mantegani in the audience.

Councilman Fanning was concerned that adding a planning director would increase the city's tax rate, but the position was finally approved for the schedule, which was adopted.

Councilmen voted 4-0 to make no change in Rose's salary of $1,425 monthly. Councilman Ellinwood abstained from the vote.

Pleads Innocent To Drugs Charge

Richard Rollinson Savage, 20, of 55 Sunshine Avenue, Sausalito, yesterday pleaded innocent in Marin Superior Court to a felony charge that he sold dangerous drugs.

Judge Harold J. Haley a jury trial for the week of Sept. 3. Savage was arrested by undercover narcotics agents Feb. 24.

POLLING

how many Peace and Freedom members encountered this treatment. He also wondered how many might have made no complaints and thus lost their vote in the supervisorial race.

He asked that all party members report instances of problems in voting to the party office at 89 Red Hill, San Anselmo. The county elections department will be asked to investigate the irregularities, he said.

Musser acknowledged that he had some calls from inspectors in Southern Marin precincts Tuesday, asking if Peace and Freedom members really could vote for supervisorial candidates.

'We told them the same thing we taught them in our classes — that there is no difference between a Peace and Freedom member and the Democrats or Republicans," Musser said.

When told of complaints of irregularities, Musser said it was the first he had heard that some persons were refused the right to vote. "We didn't have any calls concerning that," he said.

On the other hand, Reverend Banks said yesterday that he and Mrs. Levinson, wife of the doctor, had spent 45 minutes in the election office, talking about the problem with Peter Meyer, Musser's assistant.

Dr. Levinson said his wife told him that Meyer said they were the first to complain and nothing could be done unless it was discovered the irregularities were more widespread.

"If this did happen, it was wrong," Musser said. "But, if it did happen, I don't think it happened in very many places."

Joseph Howard, county organizer for the Peace and Freedom Party, also promised the party will sue in Marin Superior Court to seek to force Musser to count write-in votes cast for Walter Battaglia, the party's candidate for the Sixth Congressional District seat in Congress.

Musser maintains that, since Battaglia filed for the office only in San Francisco County, Marin County does not have to count votes cast against him. The state elections code requires filing in both counties, according to an interpretation by the secretary of state.

Howard also complained that, when party members asked how they could write in the candidate's name, polling inspectors told them the votes would not be counted anyway and discouraged them from voting.

GUNS

chase and delivery of weapons. But California, he said, "already has probably the best control laws of any state." (See also Washington story, page 3.)

Behr emphasized that effective gun control legislation is "not for the purpose of disarming our sensible citizens and not for the purpose of harassing or affecting ownership of guns for proper sportsmanlike purpose. Supervisor Thomas T. Storer, whoh seconded the motion, noted that three national leaders had been slain in five years. In addition to supporting legislation on gun control, Storer urged that the county re-dedicate itself to the recently proposed "summer of human understanding" program.

Several members of the audience backed the supervisors to the hilt. Martin Lawler, 17, of 65 Oakridge Road, Terra Linda, asked the county to urge Marin legislators in Sacramento to pass gun control laws. Young Lawler, a student at Terra Linda High School, headed the Students For Robert Kennedy in Marin.

Mrs. Bella Aaron, a member of the Marin Human Rights Commission, suggested that residents be asked to turn in guns voluntarily ttot heir churches rather than to the police or sheriff.

Another woman said weapons voluntarily turned in should be dumped in the sea. A resident of Los Ranchitos deplored the reckless use of guns by youngsters in residential areas of the county.

Supervisor John F. McInnis asked that anyone, who sees weapons being fired in populated areas, call the police or sheriff immediately and give identifications if they know the responsibles. He recalled that a shot was once fired into his home, and the bullet entered his daughter's bedroom window and hit her pillow.

Storer read a letter from Ellen Wagner of Novato, who had a petition signed by 119 residents, urging stringent gun laws.

Storer, an ex-Marine who served in Korea, announced he would turn in to the sheriff's office today a revolver which he brought back from Korea as a souvenir.

He said 5,000 Americans are murdered with firearms each year, whereas in England and France, only about 100 die from guns. He deplored the fact that "you can get a lethal pistol almost as easily as you walk into Woolworth's and get a cap pistol."

Supervisor Behr also suggested that a local ordinance be drafted and a uniform gun control law passed approved jointly by the County of Marin and the 11 cities.

The supervisors acknowledged that stricter gun laws will not eliminate murders, but could help cut down on the number of tragedies.

Braden Facing $105,000 Claim

SAN DIEGO (UPI)—A $105,000 suit alleging assault and battery was on file today in Superior Court against Thomas Braden, 49, former California Board of Education president.

Lt. Thomas Swift, 44, San Diego, signed a complaint in which he charged he was hit in the face by Braden without provocation.

The Navy officer said that on Jan. 20 he was trying to serve a complaint on Braden at his Oceanside home when the defendant hit him. The lieutenant said he needed 12 stitches about his mouth as a result of the blows.

Novato Gas Station Plan Turned Down

Eleven service stations are one too many along Highway 101, the Novato Planning Commission ruled last night.

The commission voted unanimously to deny a use permit for a service statton adjacent to Schuman Chevrolet Co. on Highway 101 at Lamont Avenue, senior planner Warren Baker reported.

Baker said the commissioners felt that there already were adequate service station facilities along the highway. There are 10 stations between Lamont and Olive avenues, he said.

The applicant, John H. Fishcher, said he would appeal the decision.

The Novato Planning Commission also:

SIGNS — Approved two signs, one indicating a service entrance and the second, an identification sign for the front of the building, for Dervin Ford agency on Highway 101 at Hill Road.

REZONING — Approved a request by Walter Kieckhefer to rezone 10 acres on the south side of Ignacio Boulevard across from Pacheco Plaza shopping center from single family residential and planned community zones to a planned residential zone.

LIBRARY — Approved a use permit for the construction of a library addition to the Our Lady of Loretto School, 1811 Virginia Avenue.

STUDIO — Approved a variance to permit the restabishment of a limited commercial photo studio at 1838 Virginia Avenue.

AMENDMENTS — Continued to July 8 a public hearing on proposed amendments to the zoning ordinance to provide more rigid standards for mobile home parks.

HEARING — Continued to July 8 a request by Paul Pickart to rezone six acres at 1524 Hill Road from limited agricultural district to a planned residential district.

MEETING — The next meeting of the planning commission will be at 8 p.m. June 24 in the Novato Community House.

Jury Trial Set In Possession Of Sharp Brass Rod

Jury trial for Raymond V. Lopez, San Quentin inmate accused of illegal possession of a sharp brass rod, has been scheduled on the Marin Superior Court master calendar to begin at 10 a.m. tomorrow.

Trial will be before Judge Thomas F. Keating. Lopez, 24, serving an indefinite committment as a sexual psychopath, allegedly had the 10-inch long rod with one end sharpened in his possession Dec. 8.

The jury trial of Johnny Lee Sommerhalder, 24, accused of murder, has been continued until the 9:30 a.m. master calendar June 24 because a co-defendant's trial is still underway in Marin Superior Court.

Sommerhalder and Kenneth Allen Preston, 20, are jointly accused in the Jan. 12 double slaying of Curtis and Shirley Ackley in their house trailer near Smith Ranch Road, Las Gallinas.

Sausalito Library Budget Readied

The Sausalito Library Board discussed its 1968-69 budget last night in preparation for a budget meeting Thursday with the city council. The board has requested a budget of $43,626, while City Mgr. George M. Patterson is recommending $43,376. This year's budget is $38,700.

The board acknowledged a $50 gift in memory of Ada Saline, former library employee, from an anonymous donor.

New officers will be elected at the next library board meeting at 8 p.m. July 8 at the library.

Transport Committee To Discuss Bus Needs

Improved pickup and discharge service in San Francisco for Marin commuters will be discussed by the vice president of Western Greyhound Lines, Richard N. Dick, at a meeting of the Tri-Partite Transportation Committee at 10 a.m. tomorrow in the administration building of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District.

Also on the agenda is a report by bridge district director William D. Hadeler on one-way toll collection on the bridge. The proposal to speed traffic by collecting tolls only for traffic going in one direction, repeatedly has been rejected by bridge directors.

Middle School 'Pod' Facilities Outlined

A two-hour final report on recommended educational specifications for the new middle school was presented to the Mill Valley School District board last night by consultant Aubrey Haan.

The specifications will be the basis for preliminary drawings by the architect for the school, which is to be completed in 1970.

Over-all concept of the school, as presented by Haan, Educational and Community Consultants and Planners, Inc., is for a central "learning resources area" linked to four surrounding "pods" which would contain 300 pupils each.

The learning resources area would include library, audio-visual aids, language laboratory, administrative and nursing offices, conference rooms and the like. It would open onto the four surrounding "pods."

Each pod of 300 pupils would be divided into two groups of 150 each, to consist of sixth, seventh and eighth graders grouped under six teachers and other personnel.

The 150-pupil groups would remain together during their three years in the school.

The plant is designed, Haan said, to facilitate independent study and individualized instruction. The report said the aim is "not permissive irresponsibility" but growth in self-discipline.

The report specified amounts of space recommended for each area, such as 1,000 square feet per pod for a joint science-art-shop-home economics area, 900 feet per pod for student lounges, and 13,080 feet per pod for the central learning resourses center.

The plan includes such items as 16 closed-circuit television outlets per pod, 40 language lab study booths, a music hall to seat 75, six music practice rooms and so on.

The plan calls for movable walls for more flexibility of planning, and flexible class scheduling is anticipated.

The board took no action last night on the report.

The Mill Valley School District Board Also:

PRINCIPAL — Hired Gene Bradford, now a teacher in San Anselmo School District, as principal for Tamalpais Valley School at a salary of $14,910.

RESIGNATION — Accepted the resignation of Mrs. Alan Teitelbaum, teacher at Homestead School.

TRAINING — Renewed a teacher training agreement with the University of California.

MEETING — Agreed to elect new board officers at the July 8 meeting. The board's next meeting will be at 8 p.m. June 24 at Park School.

Booking Made In Probe Of Forging Drug Prescription

A 22-year-old man, who told sheriff's officers he recently came to Mill Valley from Southern California, was booked in county jail yesterday for investigation of forging a drug prescription.

Deputies said Gregg Duncan Adams, who gave his address as 18 Park Way, Mill Valley, was arrested at Shoreline Drugs, 205 Flamingo Road, Tamalpais Valley, about 8:30 p.m. after employees filled out a prescription for 50 barbituate tablets for Adams.

They told officers the prescription form was signed with the name of Dr. O. W. J. Penner of Inglewood, Los Angeles County, but they had been notified only a few hours earlier that several forgeries of Penner's name have been made in California.

Marin officers and a special agent for the state Department of Vocational and Professional Standards have been investigating reports of the fradulent prescriptions also being passed in Marin County, deputies said.

Adams was scheduled to appear in Marin Municipal Court this afternoon.

Suspect Wants To Retract Plea

Anthony James Vossbrink, 20, who on April 19 had pleaded guilty to a grand theft charge, yesterday said in Marin Superior Court that he wants to withdraw the plea.

Judge Harold J. Haley referred the case back to Marin Municipal Court, where the plea originated, for a new plea at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow. The case then would be returned to superior court for further proceedings at 9:30 a.m. June 24.

Vossbrink, of San Francisco, is accused of stealing a $1,500 fur coat at Gregory's Restaurant in Corte Madera Feb. 17.

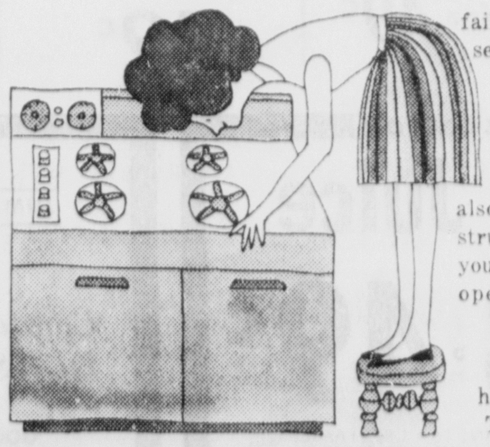
More Helpful Hints from PG&E:

"Clip and Save"

How to warm up a cold pilot.

Even the most faithful pilot light can go out. So check your pilot first if one of your gas appliances or furnace isn't operating.

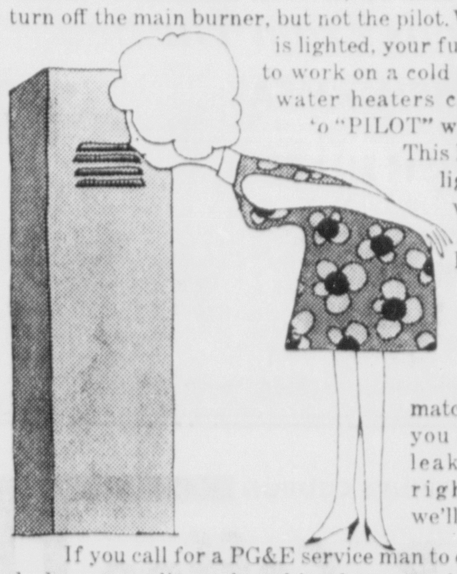
Most gas ranges have more than one pilot. If you're not sure where they're located, consult your owner's manual. (If you need help, call us.) Before relighting a pilot, be sure all burners are turned off. Allow a few minutes for the air to clear, then touch a lighted match to the pilot opening. The pilot should light with a small, blue flame, and the burner should light when you turn it on. If the burner fails to light, call us. We'll send a man out to check it.



Modern gas water heaters and dryers shut off completely if the pilot goes out. Most models also bear manufacturer instructions for relighting. If you can't get the appliance operating, call us or the installer.

If the pilot of any gas heater or furnace goes out, TURN OFF THE MAIN BURNER VALVE FIRST. Allow ten or fifteen minutes for any accumulation of gas to clear before relighting pilot (following the instructions on the equipment). With the pilot relighted, the furnace or heater should operate. If it won't, call us.

PILOTS NEEDN'T GO ON VACATION. Some folks prefer to shut off furnaces and water heaters during the summer or vacations. However, it's more convenient to turn off the main burner, but not the pilot. When the pilot is lighted, your furnace is ready to work on a cold day. Most hot water heaters can be turned to "PILOT" when not in use. This keeps the pilot lighted and prevents the main burner from heating water.



WARNING: Never look for a gas leak with a lighted match or candle. If you suspect a gas leak, call PG&E right away and we'll check it.

If you call for a PG&E service man to check out a gas leak or an appliance, have him show you where your pilots are, and how to relight them. If an appliance needs repairs or parts, an appliance man, plumber, or furnace man should be called

P.S. Since there have been six rate reductions in your gas and electric rates in the past five years, it's easy to see this makes PG&E service a bigger family bargain than ever.

JOHNSON GIVES AUTHORITY TO VIOLENCE COMMISSION

President Johnson yesterday handed his new 10-member National Commission on the Causes and Prevention of Violence its assignment. In an executive order, the President gave the panel its official title, provided it with money and a staff and gave it a year to report on its findings and suggested remedies The commission was created after the shooting of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy. With Johnson are (left to right) U.S. Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark; Rep. Hale Boggs, D-La.; Sen. Roman Hruska, R-Neb.; Eric Hoffer of San Francisco; Ambassador Patricia Harris; Dr. Milton Eisenhower, the chairman; Archbishop Terence J. Cooke of New York; Judge A. Leon Higginbotham; Albert E. Jenner Jr.; Sen. Philip Hart, D-Mich., and Lloyd Cutler, the commission's executive director. (AP Wirephoto)

Trivett Defends Unattended Main Firehouse For Training

San Rafael's main firehouse at Fifth Avenue and C Street is left unattended from 9 a.m. to noon, five days a week, for firemen's training in what City Councilman Louis H. Baar assailed last night as "way out in left field."

Fire Chief Vance Trivett stoutly defended the practice, claiming the station is in constant radio contact and training the men is more important than keeping them constantly at the firehouse.

Station 4 on Bellam Boulevard is similarly unattended during the same periods. The training is held at Station 2 at Third and Unions streets, and a crew is always left at the Joseph Court and Glenwood stations because of their isolated locations, Chief Trivett said.

Baar brought the matter up last night during city council discussion of next year's fire department budget, asking Trivett if it were true the main station is left uattended. Trivet replied that it is, and explained the procedure.

Mayor C. Paul Bettini supported the practice, declaring, "I think we should rely upon our fire chief."

"When something happens, it's going to be this council that's going to be responsible," retorted Baar. "I don't think it's a chance we can take." He was backed in this position by Councilman Fred E. Jensen.

"If this thing goes this way, I think we should delete the training officer," responded Trivett, hotly.

Councilman Harry A. Barbier, who is the city council member on the fire commission, said the commission had first objected to the practice and stopped it, but then had been convinced by Trivett of the importance of the daily training and agreed to the plan.

Baar held the decision should be up to the council rather than the fire commission. At his insistence, the fire commission was instructed to again review the practice and report to the council.

Councilman John A. Miskimen suggested, "One thing you might consider is whether always having engines at Terra Linda (Joseph Court) and Glenwood is a necessity." Crews from those stations might fill in at the main firehouse during its men's training, he proposed.

Barbier, however, objected that "the people out there would march on the city hall if we did that."

Dougherty New Planner Leader

Hugh Dougherty of Stinson Beach took over yesterday as new chairman of the Marin County Planning Commission, succeeding Eugene R. Trombley of Novato.

Michael Praszker was elected vice chairman, a post held by Dougherty.

Both men were nominated by Margaret Azevedo and elected unanimously without comment. Dougherty, as vice chairman, was in line for the chairmanship under a rotation system used by the commission.

"I think this is a plot to keep me from talking," Dougherty commented, as he took the gavel from Trombley.

Safety Measure

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Voting in the wake of the second Kennedy assassination, San Francisco supervisors decided unanimously yesterday to prohibit standees in Board chambers to reduce the hazard of violence.

Councilmen Reject Bureau On Accidents

San Rafael city councilmen last night turned thumbs down on a proposal to create an accident investigation bureau within the police department.

A four-man bureau was urged by Asst. Police Chief Joseph Brusatori and Traffic Lt. Raymond Bleasdale, in behalf of ailing Police Chief Charles J. Chiesa.

CASE NOT GOOD

Mayor C. Paul Bettini wondered "why all of a sudden twice as many in traffic?" Councilman John A. Miskimen told Brusatori and Bleasdale they had failed to make a case for the new bureau. Councilman Fred E. Jensen remarked, "This is just like anything else. Any time you set up a department it starts out with one or two and then just keeps mushrooming."

The council went along with City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen's recommendation that one patrol officer be added, who would be assigned principally to accident investigation, along with an additional woman clerk for the police department.

OTHER REVIEWS

The council, continuing its budget study sessions, went through police, fire department, city clerk, and city attorney budgets with only minor changes to the recommendations from the city manager's office.

On June 24 at 7:30 p.m., the council will review budget requests for library, public works, city treasurer, and parks and recreation. With large public attendance expected for the parks-recreation budget (there has been none at the first two sessions), the meeting will be held in the city council chamber instead of the conference room.

City Clerk W. C. Cornwell's budget was raised from $18,796 recommended by the city manager's office — exclusive of pay raises, which are to be taken up after completion of the budget study — to $19,131. The traditional is to purchase a copying machine and allow Cornwell to attend a national conference of city clerks at Hot Springs, Ark. This year the city clerk's budget was $17,949.

City Atty. David Menary's budget was left unchanged at the $12,875 recommended by the city manager. It was $12,775 this year.

TO UTILITY ACCOUNT

The council added $500 to the utility account of the fire department, bringing the total to $679,037, compared with $652,421 for the current fiscal year. Included is one additional fireman.

With the additional personnel and equipment for them, the police department budget was put at $638,457. This will permit purchase also of one new police car. The budget for this year was $558,249.

Assistant Chief Brusatori urged an increase from $15 per day to $25 per day for volunteers employed on the police boat for canal patrol, but this was put over for consideration later with salary scales.

PAY NOT REVIEWED

Budget requests for the entire city operation recommended by the city manager total $4,111,595, including a 5 per cent over-all pay increase. There have been few changes so far in his recommendations apart from the pay increase, not yet considered. This year's budget totaled $3,748,570.

Yet to be presented, however, are proposals by James H. McCown, finance director, for capital improvements. Many of these may be carry overs from projects budgeted for this year but not yet completed, such as the city's share of the new stage of San Pedro Road widening.

Mrs. Kennedy, Four Children Visit Grave

ARLINGTON, Va. (UPI) — Ethel Kennedy and her four oldest children returned to the grave of her husband, Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, at Arlington National Cemetery last evening after the gates were closed to other visitors.

She was accompanied by sons Joseph, 15, Robert, 14, and David, 12, and daughter Kathleen, 16. Mrs. Kennedy and Joseph also visited the grave Sunday.

Stuffed Dog Sent To Child

ELIZABETH, N.J. (UPI)— Ethel Kennedy sent a black and white stuffed dog to the 3-year-old girl injured while watching the Kennedy funeral train, Elzabeth General Hospital said Monday.

Debra Ann Kwiatek of Linden, N.J., was reported in good condition though "flat on her back" with serious head and back injuries.

Mrs. Kennedy sent a hand-written note with the 18-inch dog but Mr. and Mrs. Adam Kwiatek declined to reveal its contents as "too personal."

Two persons were killed by the northbound Penn-Central Railroad train that went through Elizabeth as the Kennedy funeral train went through to the south Saturday.

The nine day machinists' strike at four Marin County plants may be settled late today, with workers back on the job tomorrow at 8 a.m.

The plants, closed since last Monday, are A. G. Schoonmaker, E. D. Bullard and Vincent Whitney of Sausalito and Bergmann Manufacturing Co. of San Rafael.

No 'Lame Duck' Role For Supervisor Kettenhofen

When an office holder is defeated for re-election, the "lame duck" portion of his term is often marked by inattention to the issues that come before him and general let-down of performance.

We doubt such will be the case with County Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen.

Voters of the Second Supervisorial District last Tuesday overwhelmingly rejected a second term for Kettenhofen, choosing in his stead Peter R. Arrigoni Jr., former Fairfax city councilman. It marked the second successive rejection of an incumbent in that district, where four years ago Kettenhofen unseated longtime Supervisor William D. Fusselman.

IN A MESSAGE of thanks to his supporters following his defeat, Kettenhofen said:

"I feel I have served Marin well as I saw the issues. I have no regrets. . . I would act and vote the same again under the same circumstances. I retain my same convictions and will continue the balance of the year in this same manner and hope Marin will be the beneficiary."

We think "Kett" means it.

Since he assumed office in January, 1965, he has consistently fought for his convictions — even sometimes in the face of strong public disapproval. We expect he will continue to do so for the remainder of this year.

WE HAVE HAD occasion from time to time to disagree with Kettenhofen editorially, and to criticize what he did. But he has "called them as he saw them," and if others — including this newspaper — sometimes saw them differently, that has not detracted from the respect due him.

We expect many who voted to replace him with Arrigoni respect Kettenhofen. But they don't agree with him.

Some in public office court favor at the cost of their own convictions. Some risk disapproval and even censure by sticking to their convictions. We would have to put "Kett" in the latter group.

PETER ARRIGONI will have a large pair of shoes to fill on the board of supervisors. We believe he will fill them. On the relatively few issues that he raised during the campaign — of which "halt the freeways" seemed to be the principal one — we know his position, and he knows from the vote result that it is the popular position. On the many other issues that will come before him during the next four years, we trust he will vote and act with as much conviction as has Kettenhofen — and hope he will be more consistently in tune with his constituents.

In the meantime, we feel confident Kettenhofen will continue to hew to his own line through the next six months. And, as we have in the past, we expect to occasionally take issue with him.

LSD LINKED TO DEFORMITY

An LSD "trip" may cause a yet-unborn child a life of deformity, according to three Iowa doctors.

Their report, printed in The Lancet, a British medical journal, told of a baby born to a young girl who had taken LSD four times during her pregnancy.

The infant's right leg is shorter than its left, and is attached to its hip at an odd angle. Its right foot also is short, and has only three toes.

The Iowa pediatricians said that they are certain that LSD caused the defects.

Harmful drugs are a growing problem in many sectors of modern life.

No parent can afford to state complacently: "It can't happen to my child." It can — and might.

Ultimately the decision involving drugs is up to the God-given responsibility of each person. Pray that people may choose to live in the real world — with its pain and complexities — rather than "drop out" into a fantasy existence with its terrifying consequences.

"He who does what is true comes to the light, that it may be clearly seen that his deeds have been wrought in God."

U.S. Actions In Vietnam War Do Not Match Its Promises

(Reprinted from St. Louis Post-Dispatch)

As the Paris peace talks continue to get nowhere, the time has come to face the fact that American military policy in Vietnam does not support the claims of our negotiators in Paris. Seven weeks after President Johnson's announcement of a bombing curtailment, Americans have an obligation to measure their Government's conduct against its words.

The heart of the United States position at Paris is that we have unilaterally undertaken a great and significant de-escalation of the fighting by curtailing the air war above the 20th parallel. On the basis of that act of magnanimity, we insist that North Vietnam display comparable acts of military restraint as a condition of any further de-escalation by us. We complain that the North Vietnamese, on the contrary, have not diminished their effort at all; they are continuing their "infiltration" at the old pace. The implication is that they will be to blame if the Paris talks fail, and the possibility of failure is now being openly discussed.

Regrettably, the news from Vietnam undercuts the basic premise of this whole line of argument. The curtailment of the bombing turns out not to have been an act of de-escalation at all. Though the air war has been geographically rearranged, it has not been scaled down, as the world was led to believe, but actually intensified.

There cannot, of course, be a sound basis for fruitful peace negotiations until both sides actually scale down the fighting. In claiming to have done so, the United States acknowledges that somebody has to move first, and strives to garner the moral credit for doing so. But now that the claim turns out to be fraudulent, the structure of our position at Paris collapses.

We have no case for demanding a reduction of Hanoi's military effort when we are increasing our own. We cannot expect Hanoi to accept a sealing-off of its supply lines to the South when our own supply lines remain open, when more American troops are being landed every week, when more dollars are being spent, more reservists being called up, more bombs being dropped.

The simple and honest way to get the Paris talks out of the propaganda stage and into the negotiation stage is to make our policy what we say it is.

Cruelty To Calf Upsets Watcher

On Sunday June 2, a rodeo was held in Fairfax. It was a sunny day, and my husband and I brought our four small daughters to see what we thought would be good clean entertainment. Little did we know what was in store.

In the final act of the rodeo, a calf was roped. Causing the animal to be snapped back — by the neck — and thrown to the ground. The horse to which the rope was attached was scared and bolted. This horse dragged that baby animal all over that arena. Now wasn't that wonderful entertainment for humans supposedly intelligent and humane, let alone for small children! And we wonder where our young people get their cruel ideas! Where are the kind people in our county, where are the people with any sense? What we watched on Sunday was torture of poor innocent, dumb animals.

I called the Humane Society, and found that I was only the second person out of probably 4,000 to bother calling. The Humane Society is as upset as I, but with little or no support from the public, almost nothing can be done for these defenseless animals. . . .

How on earth can we have peace in the world, when we are responsible for allowing torture and cruelty right under our noses? . . .

Why Do We Not Grieve For Others?

Today we grieve for Robert Kennedy and we should. But in today's newspapers the death in Vietnam of 1,975 American boys is reported. The paper doesn't even refer to these dead as boys or men, but as "troops." Thousands of Vietnamese are being killed by our guns and bombs and napalm. We call these people "Vietcong" or "the enemy" not men and women and children. They are the enemy so we kill them and they retaliate by killing us.

To Sirhan Sirhan, Robert Kennedy was the enemy. Sirhan is a Jordanian Arabian "patriot." To him Kennedy was the symbol of that which he hated, so he killed him.

The death of Robert Kennedy is a tragedy, and so is the death of 1,975 American boys, and so is the death of the Vietnamese who are being killed by us. The greater tragedy is that we are able to go on unchanging, continuing to think and react as we do, unable to really care for each other, always looking at our fellow human beings as things — not people — always willing to destroy those we fear or hate, alway seeing almost anything as more important than the love we owe each other.

President Johnson, over national television, asks for stricter gun control laws and more respect for law. At the same time, he keeps the war in Vietnam going on. A war that exists for only one reason — national power. People are killed, but they aren't as important as maintaining control of Southeast Asia, containing communism, etc. . . .

These are the reasons Robert Kennedy was killed, the reasons Jack Kennedy was killed, the reasons Dr. Martin Luther King was killed, the reasons more than 25,000 American boys have been killed in Vietnam and the reason 800,000 and over Vietnamese have been killed. There is always something more important than the life of a person.

We must change our focus if we wish to survive either as a nation or a race. We must understand that peace is not gained by war — never. Peace is a state of mind that outlaws war, outlaws it for any reason and for always. Peace means love. . . .

Era Has Passed With Assassinations

This letter is addressed to the citizens of the United States of America, in the hope that they — young or old — might understand its message.

A great era has passed in this country. An era which we are too young to have known and yet too old to begin. The era died with the first shot in November, 1963. And since then it has slowly reminded us of its passing, like a tolling bell, by claiming other parts of its symmetry.

And somber and grey, we, the youth do here stand, before its passing. Taking into consideration the men and their families for which its bell has tolled. And here we, who are to know no suffering, weep in shame. We are not alone. Men and women of a much older age weep too. Perhaps they, too, feel the injustice and the pain that we, the youth, feel today.

Nevertheless we do stand, and stand united, ere we fall. And stand we should if all else fails, united. For it is only in this unity, only in the strength of one, that we may stop the tolling bell, and stand united to a more joyous future.

'Lynch Him!' Cry Betrays America

The history of our nation was again changed for the worse last week with the senseless killing of Robert F. Kennedy. I have heard it stated that this points to a sickness in the minds of the men who perform these horrid deeds. Sirhan Sirhan, the accused murderer of the senator from New York, may be mentally ill, or he may be very involved emotionally in the dignity of his country. The act is still outrageous in a "free" society such as ours, but the sickness is not in this one man alone, it is in every American who feels that the killing of this man is the only answer. Five years ago this was evident when one Jack Ruby was impelled to murder Lee Harvey Oswald, the supposed killer of our late President. This was manifest again last Tuesday night when the crowd at Kennedy headquarters cried "lynch him" and "kill him." Here is the real sickness! Americans are so orientated toward violence that this seems to be the natural outcome of such an act.

I believe that in a period of sorrow such as the one that we are now in, the men and women of the United States should reassess their values. John Kennedy, Martin Luther King, and Robert Kennedy died senselessly. They were all superior men, and our country's history will remember them as such. I think that their deaths were not entirely in vain though. These deaths have shown that the sickness that takes hold of these men is not only noticeable in them, but in our actions in "retribution." The American citizen seems to feel that reciprocity for these murders is what is called for. Violence is no answer, nor will it ver be, just as war is no answer to the problems facing the world, it is an "out."

Three great leaders are dead now, assassinated without apparent cause, but I pray that the citizens of the United States will grow from these murders, that this sickness will subside, and that they realize that reciprocal violence makes a man just as sick as the man who performs the murderous deed.

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

A householder appealed to a police lieutenant for permission to speak with the prisoner who had been caught red-handed the night before looting the householder's home. "This is an unusual request," commented the lieutenant. "What have you in mind?"

"I just want to ask him," replied the householder, "how the heck he got into our bedroom without awakening my wife."

A restaurant owner, sampling a newly hired cook's first pot of soup, remarked, "You say you served overseas?" "I did," said the cook proudly. "I was officers' cook for two years and was wounded three times." "You're a lucky man," decided the owner. "It's a miracle they didn't kill you."

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Robert Kennedy Leaves A Lesson As Campaigning Goes On

WASHINGTON — The assassination of Sen. Robert Kennedy changes some things significantly and others not at all.

It will greatly affect the mood, the shape, and possibly the outcome of the election. It will almost certainly produce a more somber, sober, soul-searching presidential campaign.

But the assassination does not, it seems to me, significantly affect the pre-convention race. It is only objective to state that the senator was losing his bid for the Democratic nomination.

Senator Kennedy suffered a serious setback in Oregon. He received less than 50 per cent of the total Democratic vote in California and led Sen. Eugene McCarthy by little more than 2 per cent. These circumstances gave slight prospect that he would have been able to overcome the commanding lead in delegates Vice President Hubert Humphrey was steadily piling up.

THE EVIDENCE is on the side that Humphrey's nomination was already in the making and that very few hurdles stood in the way of it. Undoubtedly, McCarthy will draw some support from those who wanted to nominate Kennedy, but I believe we will be soon witnessing a flow of both Kennedy-committed and uncommitted delegates from such large states as Ohio, New York, and California to the side of the vice president.

As to the election, the circumstance of Kennedy's death aids the cause of the Republican nominee who, now more likely than ever, will be Richard Nixon. It heightens the nation's anxiety over violence, makes it perhaps a controlling issue in the campaign, and if the voters decide it is time for a change, they may want a change of party, not just another administration by the same party.

BUT ROBERT KENNEDY is certain to make a deep impact upon the nation in death as in life.

Only a few minutes before an assassin struck him down, Senator Kennedy was voicing his greatest goal in his deeply felt remarks to his supporters in the early morning hours after the California vote.

"I think," he said, "we can end the divisions within the United States — the divisions, the violence, the disenchantment with our society."

This was Kennedy's earnest objective and the millions of Americans who cherished and esteemed this vivid and vital young leader now have the opportunity to help the nation realize this goal by doing their part to dissolve the climate of violence which has been mounting year after year.

BY NOW NEARLY every public official has recognized that it is impossible to separate even such acts of violence as the assassination from the mood, the pervasive toleration, and the practice of group violence in the streets and on the campus. Both Humphrey and McCarthy said that we all share some of the guilt of the assassin. President Johnson said it explicity: "It would be wrong — it would be self-deception — to ignore the connection between lawlessness, hatred, and this act of violence."

This is such a pervasive and fundamental problem that it can only be solved by a pervasive and fundamental act of will on the part of the American people themselves. It can't be solved by an act of Congress. It can't be solved by more police and better police. It can only be attained when the American people as a whole resolve to live by peaceful assembly, peaceful protest, and peaceful change.

SENATOR KENNEDY said: "We are an unselfish and compassionate country."

Now is the time to prove it.

President Johnson said: "It would be wrong to conclude from this act that our country is sick."

Now is the time to prove it.

Changes Mostly Subtle In Mid-East War Area

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

One year after, 15 foreign-flag ships still lie trapped in the Suez Canal beneath the opposing Israeli and Egyptian guns on either side. Israeli forces maintain their hold on Syria's Golan Heights, on the Jordan River's west bank, on Old Jerusalem, the Gaza Strip and two Saudi Arabian-owned islands guarding the entrance to the Gulf of Aquaba.

The rattle of gunfire across the Jordan River and Arabian vows of a war of extermination against Israel make it all seem as if nothing had changed.

YET THERE HAVE been changes since the end of that six-day war, some subtle, some, such as the reinforced Russian military presence at either end of the blocked canal and in the Persian Gulf, not so subtle.

Among the subtleties is the sobering effect the last year has had on Gamal Abdel Nasser, president of the United Arab Republic.

While Nasser's chief spokesman, Hassanein Heikal, editor of the newspaper Al Ahram continues to trumpet that a renewal of the war is inevitable, informed sources in Cairo say that Nasser himself is committed to a political settlement.

They cite as proof the fact that since last fall only a few shooting incidents have been reported in the Canal Zone.

The student-worker riots of last February gave full exposure to Nasser's multitudinous problems at home.

A FURTHER subtlety is the lack of any real resistance movement in the Israel-occupied areas of Arab territories.

Arab commando forces designed to keep the war alive have little more than nuisance value.

Israel has indicated she intends to keep the Gaza Strip and the whole of Jerusalem but would surrender other occupied territories in return for peace.

Despite a seeeming drift toward maintenance of the status quo, real peace still seems far away and, as the Arabs rebuild their shattered forces with Soviet aid, the dangers of an eventual renewal of the conflict remain.

Big Job Ahead For Novato In Downtown Beautification

The Novato Citizens Beautification Committee has bit off a pretty big chunk of work for itself for the next year or two: painting, cleaning and fixing up Novato.

Not that the town is that unpainted, dirty or generally run down. It isn't, although it does show signs of neglect here and there. But from experience — can assure the nine ladies and gentlemen of the committee that they've underestimated the scope of their project. It's very similar in many aspects to the poor iceberg, the editorial cartoon cliche for "boy, you don't know what's about to happen to you!"

TAKE MILL VALLEY, for example. This is the town that is being cited as the best example of self-help by chambers of commerce and merchant associations throughout the state because of its successful paint-up program last year. Within recent weeks representatives from Claremont, Santa Rosa, Livermore and Novato have gone to Mill Valley to see how they did it.

Well, Mill Valley did run a paint-up campaign last year and it was very successful, and it's still going on. A visitor need only take one look at the brightly painted, charming buildings of that small community to realize that the program was highly successful.

But a lot of hard work, headaches and hard feelings went into the program before it could be termed successful. In fact, it was only due to the determination of the Mill Valley Chamber of Commerce not to fail and the energy, tact, imagination and hard work of Mrs. Jan Mountjoy, program coordinator, that the thing ever came off at all.

Fortunately for Novato, and all the other cities, Mill Valley found the way to pull off a successful self-help program without the expensive coordination services and other hoopla that have characterized such projects in other towns.

THE PROGRAM was pretty simple once the flaws and flies were out of it. Merchants who had backed the idea from its inception chipped in to finance hiring an architect to provide a color scheme for the downtown area. Then Mrs. Mountjoy took the color scheme to other merchants to urge them to join the program. Each merchant or property owner paid for his own paint, labor, and any extra frills such as new signs. No gimmicks such as free paint, free labor or a weekend "paint-for-all" were included in this final scheme.

The first paint-up was pretty much limited to the core of the downtown area. Many of the town's merchants and property owners wanted to be shown. They were, and they joined in the second paint-up held a few months later. The third paint-up is being organized now for the stragglers.

One need only talk with Mrs. Mountjoy to realize the thousands of hours of labor that were necessary to make the program successful. But it was worth it, she and all the others in the program say.

EVERBODY in Mill Valley loves it. Admittedly, the town doesn't have too many more tourists than it did before. But, then, the residents never really wanted them despite all the talk of becoming the "Carmel of the North." And, it does have a healthy, thriving business community that is attractive to drive through. There are no more vacancy signs in this town.

This is what is about to happen in Novato if the members of the citizens beautification committee have their way. Two years from now, when the program is close to completion, Novato will have an attractive and charming downtown area.

Good painting!

Even An Idiot Who Has Flair Can Promote Himself Too Far

Once, a long time ago, in the land which today is called Bolivia and in the city known as La Paz, there lived an idiot. Now this idiot was not a full-blown idiot, but an idiot who carried his idiocy well and with a flair.

This idiot, whose name was Sebastian Carona Fiorito Valdez Procuna, was a nobody and he knew it, which you can see, made him an unusual idiot. Having neither genius, talent, skill, nor even a good singing voice, he was about to despair when it came to him that his greatest talent was his idiocy.

"EUREKA!" he cried. "I shall be a somebody! I shall become the greatest idiot in all the world!"

With astuteness, cunning and patience typical of idiots who carry their idiocy well and with a flair, he outfitted himself with an army lieutenant's uniform. People pointed and laughed for everyone knew that Sebastian was not a lieutenant but an ordinary idiot who carried his idiocy well and with a flair.

But Sebastian persevered. As time went on he promoted himself to captain and added medals. Though people laughed at him, he was gracious and kind as he walked about the city. Soon they began going along with his game. Now that he was a captain they no longer laughed directly at him but only behind his back. When he approached, they made a pretense of respect. They solemnly addressed him as "Captain" or "Sir" and saluted.

MORE MONTHS passed. Sebastian promoted himself to major and added more ribbons. He was widely congratulated and the newspapers even mentioned it, reporting it with a tongue-in-cheek flavor.

By the time he promoted himself to colonel, the people had stopped laughing . . . even behind his back. Now their eyes fell on his medals, ribbons and gold braid and he was respectfully saluted. Rumors began to surround him. It was whispered he was a devil with the ladies, that he had mistresses . . . three, it was said. Sebastian took up a swagger stick and grew a mustache, waxing the tips to a saucy curl. He winked at the ladies.

When he promoted himself to general the people rejoiced. Newspapers carried banner headlines and pictures. This time there was no tongue-in-cheek reporting. The story soberly told of the promotion and added that rumors had it that General Sebastian was destined to become chief of staff.

NOW GENERAL SEBASTIAN came in demand to lead parades and make speeches at festivals. Rumors hinted that his influence was felt throughout the government. It was whispered he had prevented a coup simply by saying, "It is not now the time!"

The president, his political ground shaky, heard these rumors and, fearful that General Sebastian might someday say, "Now IS the time . . ." had the beloved and respected general assassinated.

It was done in typical Chicago style. The Thompson submachine gun's rat-a-tat-tat shattered the still morning air. The general fell in a bed of marigolds.

There was weeping in the streets. Even the president, when he read the eulogy, wept. The general was buried in a place of honor and a statue was put over his grave. The statue was of General Sebastian astride a horse. Both front feet of the horse were in the air.

Moral: You can fool some of the people all of the time, and all of the people some of the time, but then . . . that's enough!

Narcotics Case Pleas Entered

David Allen Ward, 23, and Scott Miller English, 24, pleaded innocent in Marin Superior Court yesterday to a joint complaint of narcotics violations.

Jury trial was scheduled for the week of Aug. 26.

Ward, of 99 Spruce Road, Mill Valley, is accused of one count of selling marijuana and two counts of possession of marijuana. English, of 126 H Lane, Novato, is charged with one count of possessing marijuana. The two were arrested along with 61 other persons during a series of raids in February by state and local narcotics agents and police.

Routine Agenda

The Novato Fire District directors will meet at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow to discuss routine business, according to Fire Chief George J. Cavallero. The meeting will be held at Fire Station No. 1, 1000 Grant Avenue, Novato.

Rec Directors To Air Bolinas Lagoon Dredging

A proposal by the Bolinas Harbor District to dredge 60,000 cubic yards of mud from Bolinas Lagoon will be discussed by the Marin County Parks and Recreation Commission tomorrow.

The meeting is set for 2 p.m. in Room 413 of the Civic Center.

Also on the agenda is the Marinwood Tennis Association's request that tennis courts be established in the county, possibly at the Civic Center site.

Mrs. Robert Bastian, president of the Belvedere-Tiburon Landmarks Society, and Rec. Dir. Pierre W. Joske will report on the possibility of applying for federal open space grant to acquire land upslope of the Old St. Hilary's Church in Tiburon.

Joske's oral report will include a progress report on the development of Deer Park in Fairfax and recreation potentials at Tom's Point north of Miller Park and South of Dillon's Beach.

The nation's 200,000 tons of low-cost uranium reserves will be exhausted by the mid-1970s. Half a million tons must be found by late 1980 to supply proposed power plants.

Rafferty Seeks Cranston Debate

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Dr. Max Rafferty, Republican senatorial nominee, wants to debate Alan Cranston, the Democratic nominee.

Rafferty, now state superintendent of public instruction, said yesterday in a telegram to Cranston that a series of television debate would help the voters decide who is best qualified to represent them.

Cranston's campaign headquarters said the proposal is under consideration.

On Design Agenda

Hub Fire, Police Pay Hikes Sought

San Anselmo police and firemen, backed by their own attorney, pleaded for a 10 per cent pay increase last night with city councilmen concerned with squeezing the budget for capital improvement cash.

James Kemp, Sonoma County attorney, declared that San Anselmo's public safety forces have earned the city the best fire insurance rating in the county while working at the lowest salaries.

"It's surprising to find the best being paid the least. Frankly, they wouldn't have to be embarrassed to come before you and ask for a 15 per cent increase," Kemp said.

HIGH TAXES CITED

Councilman James F. Reed replied that San Anselmo, hampered by low sales tax revenue, has one of the highest tax rates in the county — $2.06 per $100 assessed valuation. Compounding this, he said, is the fact that the city must begin making capital improvements.

"Over the past 60 years, this city has allowed far more depreciation in its plant that it should have. Its streets are an example," he said.

Police Chief Raymond Buchignani, whose salary would increase from $13,012 to $14,340 a year with a 10 per cent raise, said:

"In my opinion, capital outlay is second to paying a polic officer what he's worth. It's wrong that the police officers of San Anselmo should be second in pay to any city in California. It's also wrong that they should be paid less than in cities half the size of San Anselmo."

OTHER CITIES

Kemp noted that Corte Madera, which paid policemen the same as San Anselmo this year, has already granted a 10 per cent raise for fiscal 1968-69.

A 10 per cent raise would increase top pay for patrolmen and firemen from $710 to $781 a month.

The exchange came during the council's second of four scheduled budget sessions. The total proposed budget is $1,008,237, about 17 per cent lower than the current budget of $1,214,652. It makes no recommendations on salary increases and reflects no raises.

Reed and Councilman Kenneth L. Anderson said last night they might be able to pay the first increment for a city teen center if councilmen would forego their own salaries for the year. The council pay will cost the city $4,500.

"I think we could stand it to go without them for a year," Anderson said.

'ONE MORE VOTE'

"All we need is one more vote," Reed said.

"Well, you're not going to get it," said Mayor Duane C. Reagan. "I've always maintained a governing body should be paid for its services so you may as well forget it."

Reed suggested they could save $237 by not providing City Atty. John G. Buresh with a health insurance fringe benefit to his $7,104 a year retainer.

Reagan said he did not consider it worth the bother.

'BACKSLID' CITY

"Every $237 saved is money we can use for capital improvement. This city for the past 60 years has blackslid," Reed said.

The council will make no decisions on the budget until the final meeting at 7:45 p.m. June 20.

The council will hold its regular meeting at 8 p.m. today. The third budget session will be at 7:45 p.m. next Tuesday.

Scorpion Order Change Revealed

NORFOLK, Va. (UPI)—A Navy communications officer revealed today that the missing nuclear submarine Scorpion was sent two changes in orders — one "highly classified" —shortly before she disappeared.

Lt. Cmdr. Charles H. Garrison, Jr., communications officer for the Atlantic Submarine Command, submitted copies of the secret orders in a 10-minute open session of a Navy court of inquiry into the loss of the submarine and her 99 man crew.

The presiding officer, Vice Adm. Bernard L. Austin, then ordered the court into closed session for further testimony on the Navy's last contact with the submarine —which has not been heard from since May 21.

Record Shop Loot Valued At $6,000

Loot, with an estimated wholesale value of $5,000 to $6,000, was taken in a burglary at the Record King, 1134 Fourth Street, San Rafael, police reported yesterday.

Shirley E. Childress, owner of the record shop, said she was completing an inventory of the numerous stolen items including 1,000 tape recordings.

The burglary occurred between 5:30 p.m. Friday and 9:30 a.m. Saturday.

Officers said the intruder broke a small hole in a window in a rear door and opened the door to gain entry.

In addition to the tape recordings, two home tape recorders, two auto tape recorders, a set of speakers and two table radios were taken.

Also, $40 in change was taken from a cardboard box. Stereo records were removed from display and stacked on the floor but it was not known if any of the records had been taken from the shop.

Trustees Want Cheaper Heating System Proposals

West Marin School District trustees last night ordered a search for other solutions after hearing a proposal for installation of new heating units costing $20,700 in West Marin School.

Supt. Howard F. Brose said the report by Robert Braun, consulting engineer for Charles and Braun of San Francisco, on leaks in the school's heating system had been requested by the board.

Braun proposed installation of air circulation heating units in the lower wing of the school for $15,000, in the multi-purpose room for $3,500 and in the administration wing for $2,200.

The board instructed him to look for other possible methods of heating the school and for methods of locating the leaks.

West Marin School District Board Also:

BUDGET—Delayed an item-by-item review of the proposed 1968-69 budget until Monday at 7:30 p.m. because of the late hour.

DRESS STANDARDS—Delayed a discussion of dress standards until an opinion is received from the county counsel's office on a committee recommendation calling for standards such as clothes "in good taste" and hair "at reasonable length" and leaving the interpretation up to the superintendent.

MUSIC TEACHER — Responding to a presentation by parent members of a curriculum study committee, authorized Brose to hire a replacement upper grade elementary teacher who can teach instrumental and choral music.

NEW TEACHER—Authorized Brose to hire a new teacher due tto additional class load in the fourth and fifth grades.

Budget Session

Continued discussion of the 1968-69 budget is on the agenda for the Larkspur City Council meeting at 8 p.m. today in the city hall. Councilmen will also make appointments to fill planning commission vacancies and set a date for a joint meeting with the Larkspur Library board.

Teen-Agers Get Life Sentences

MARTINEZ (UPI) — Two Berkeley teen-agers were sentenced to life in prison yesterday after they admitted the crimes of murder, sex perversion and sodomy against fellow inmates at Contra Costa County jail.

Superior Court Judge Robert J. Cooney levied the terms on Stephen Woody, 18, and Richard M. Clemence, 19, who changed their pleas to guilty as their murder trial was scheduled to open in the hanging of Roy Murphy, 21, Martinez.

Woody and Clemence also pleaded guilty to three counts of sex perversion involving Murphy and a cellmate who was found dead Feb. 6. They also pleaded guilty to a sodomy charge involving a 15-year-old juvenile who was being held at the jail.

Friends To The Psychiatric Patients

By BARBARA HOSMER

A fresh flower arrangement and a ping pong game in the day room, a taffy-pull in the kitchen, stereo music in the music room, a bridge game underway. It might be a day of relaxation in a Marin household.

Instead it's an ordinary day in 2E, the psychiatric wing of Ross Hospital, and the participants are people who all too often have been filled with nameless terror, loneliness and despair.

The hospital's professional staff is there to use highly-refined psychiatric techniques to help them back to a normal life. But busy backing them up are the nine Marin women who volunteer a full day each week to bring some friendly understanding and a breath of the outside world to the women patients. They are the partner for ping pong, the fourth for bridge, the assistant at a cake baking session and the lady taking a group to the bank or shopping.

It takes a special kind of volunteer to work with psychiatric patients.

"ONCE IN A while you may have to duck when a cup comes flying through the air," says one volunteer who has been working at Ross for five years.

But the rewards are special too she finds.

"A positive response from just one person who is hospitalized, a laugh, a show of interest where there has been only apathy makes a whole day, even a whole week, well worth the time and effort spent on 2E," says the volunteer, Mrs. Howard Hetzner of Tiburon.

The psychiatric wing volunteers are headed by Mrs. Eric Pedley, of Kentfield, chairman. The others are Mesdames Carl Carlsen of San Rafael, Earl Hunter of Corte Madera; Earl Frank of Forest Knolls, Franklin Palcanis of San Rafael, May Jope of Ross, Carl Shapiro of Fairfax and Gene Hymanson of San Anselmo.

Each puts in seven or eight hours one day each week, and some serve in the evenings when parties and musical programs are planned for the patients. The volunteers assist the occupational therapist Joan Cline with these entertainments, as well as with games and crafts so that patients' evenings are not dull and lonely.

"WE COULD USE volunteers every night and more in the daytime," says Mrs. Hetzner, "but people are afraid to go or that they will find it unpleasant.

"Actually the psychiatric staff is always there, and if someone looks as though a tantrum is coming on, you simply get out of the way and let the staff member take care of the patient," she explains.

Sometimes the volunteer takes patients for scenic rides, to the hairdresser, the Civic Center, walking in the Marin Art and Garden Center, banking and even house hunting. She first obtains permission of a staff member for these outings and each patient going along has a pass.

The whole emphasis of the Ross psychiatric program's treatment is to reduce the disruptive effects of hospital-

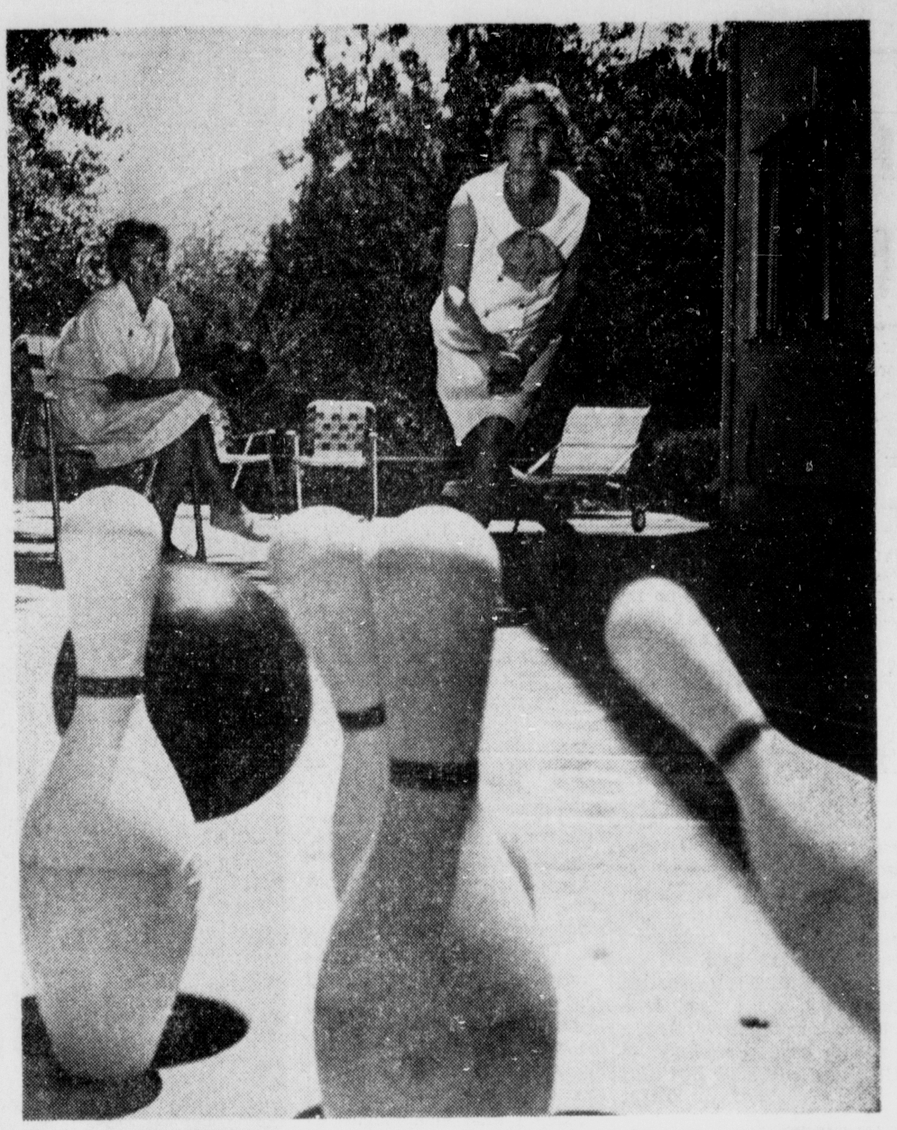
TYPICAL OF THE OPEN door policy and informality in the psychiatric wing at Ross General Hospital is this self-service kitchen. Patients may cook as they wish or help themselves from the well-stocked refrigerator. At left, phychiatric wing volunteers portray some of the volunteer-patient relationships and activities. Preparing cakes are volunteers, from left, Mrs. Gene Hymanson, Mrs. Earl Hunter and Mrs. Carl Carlsen. Ross phychiatric volunteers demonstrate the use of equipment in the occupational therapy department at right. Posing as a patient, volunteer Mrs. Coulter McKeever spins a pottery bowl while volunteer Mrs. Earl Frank supervises. An extensive array of equipment includes a kiln, artists' materials, and many types of handicraft supplies.



ROSS HOSPITAL'S psychiatric wing has a sheltered patio where volunteers and patients can participate in such games as shuffle board, tether ball, bowling, barbecuing, or playing bridge on the patio tables. Reasons Why Boys And Girls Grow Taller, Mature Faster

By JOSEPH L. MYLER

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Today's boys and girls grow taller and mature earlier than those of 50 or 100 years ago.

One possible, if only partial, explanation may be the bicycle.

According to J. M. Tanner, professor of child health and growth at the Institute of Child Health, University of London, the most obvious environmental reason for the differences between now and back then is "better nutrition."

BUT GENETIC, or hereditary, factors may also be involved.

In a recent issue of Scientific American, Tanner reported that:

—15-year-old boys of 1938 averaged five inches taller than their 1883 counterparts according to records from several European countries, the United States and Canada, Japan, Hong Kong, New Zealand, and New South Wales in Australia.

—Girls of 18 in 1938 were nearly two inches taller than the girls of 1883.

—CHILDREN in North America, Europe, Japan, and parts of China have come to the age of puberty three years (in some countries five years) sooner than children once did.

It was once thought that hot climates were "a potent cause of early menstruation" among girls. But the evidence of this, Tanner said, "seems chiefly anecdotal." He noted that the first menstrual period occurs now at the same age among Eskimos as among Nigerians.

Nevertheless, the trend to larger body sizes and earlier sexual maturity "may have in whole or in part a genetic explanation."

THIS IS WHERE the bicycle comes in.

"Such a trend may exist in the gradual decline of intermarriage of members of the same village community," Tanner said. "In Western European communities, at least, outbreeding has increased at a fairly steady rate ever since the introduction of the bicycle.

By MOLLY MARIN

Trudie Behr and Deborah Bleicher of Mill Valley, Phila Cousins of Sausalito and Teddy Dodge of San Francisco will give an end-of-the-school year party for classmates and their escorts tomorrow at the Presidio Golf Club in San Francisco.

About 150 guests are expected to attend the party, which will start with dancing at 8:30 p.m.

Trudie, the daughter of the Peter Behrs of Mill Valley, and Teddy, daughter of the George Dodges of San Francisco, are juniors at the Santa Catalina School in Monterey. Deborah, the daughter of Capt. and Mrs. A. L. Bleicher of Mill Valley, and Phila, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Cousins of Sausalito, are juniors at the Katharine Branson School in Ross.

Parents of the girls will chaperon.

PAUL AND PHYLLIS Lafferty are on their way home to Corte Madera after almost two years out of the country. They and their 12-year-old son Bill have been living in Bangkok, where Paul was sent by his company.

Their homeward trip will take them through India and Europe. From New York they plan to fly to St. Louis for a visit with their daughter, Mrs. William Windes (Jan Lafferty), and her family. There is a new grandson, Paul Bradshaw Windes, who arrived just a few days before the Laffertys left Bangkok.

VERONICA "RONNI" Gelardi was honored at two bridal showers. One was given in Stockton by her Delta Gamma sorority sisters at the University of the Pacific where she was graduated Saturday with a degree in education. The hostesses were Gretchen Wolf of Modesto, Dede Jenkins of Vallejo and Sue Hassman of Alameda.

Mrs. Clinton McCormick (Laura Moss) and Mrs. Lawrence Hamilton (Genie Crawford) entertained Ronni, her relatives and friends at the home of Mrs. Marie Moss, Mill Valley. Among the 23 guests were Mrs. William Feeira, the bride elect's sister, and her mother, Mrs. Francis Gelardi.

Ronni will be married June 15 to John Moran Foy at Redwoods Presbyterian Church in Larkspur. Her fiance is a graduate of the University of the Pacific and Thunderbird School of Foreign Trade in Arizona.

MR. AND MRS. Burton Paynter of Greenbrae are leaving Marin to live in San Diego County. They entertained at a farewell cocktail party at their home last night. The Archer Forsyths of Mill Valley gave a patio luncheon recently for the Paynters.

VISITING THE Richard Evanses in Mill Valley is his sister, Mrs. Robert Castberg of Kailua, Hawaii. She will be with them a week.

SEVERAL young men from Marin will be among the escorts for the girls who will bow at the San Francisco Debutante Ball on June 21. Nicholas Lane Bates of Belvedere, who attends San Rafael Military Academy, will escort Elizabeth Tracy Cameron; Peter Banning of Belvedere, a Colorado College student, will be an escort for Kay Stuart Finley; Richard T. HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Parents Advised To Base Rules On Logic Backed By Reasoning

DEAR HELEN:

My folks are pussyfooters. Instead of coming out with a flat "no!" when they don't want me to do something, they ease around and try indirect persuasion so I'll make up my own mind against doing it. It starts out almost yes, but it ends up no dice all the same because by the time they're through talking in riddles I'm out of the mood, or else I get the message and say "Forget it."

I'll be truthful and say that a lot of the time these things I want aren't very smart or practical. But why can't my Dad just once slam his fist on the table and shout, "I said 'No!' and I mean 'No!' " like my girl friend's Dad does? That's more honest than this kind and understanding bit that means the same thing. All I want is a straight, short answer, not a course in child psychology. — TIRED OF DOUBLE DOUBLE TALK

DEAR TIRED:

I certainly agree a straightforward "No!" is better than a psychological con game. But the parent should be prepared to back up his "no" with good reasons, if asked. And he shouldn't resent the asking!—H.

DEAR HELEN:

About those corny TV commercials. Sometimes the people who write them gag too. My Dad, for example. He says that certain companies stick with the "hard sell," or the goopy stuff because they think the new kind of advertising doesn't make people want to buy — it just amuses them.

When we groan about certain commercials, he says, "Well, you kids like to eat, and it's a living." — SON OF AN ADVERTISING MAN

DEAR SON:

True. Where it takes "corn" to make the "bread," a family man can't risk his job adding spice. But if the corn gags him he'd do well to find another company.—H.

DEAR HELEN:

A while back I went out with a boy I like very much. I was terribly anxious to date him so I ignored the warnings of my friends who said he was fast.

Well, he went a little father than he should but not that far and I didn't mind because I was crazy about him. But the next day I remembered his reputation, and got to thinking that he feels I'm just another easy mark and it meant nothing to me.

He drove me home that evening and I goofed it by trying to explain that maybe he'd got the wrong impression of me. Since then we really haven't talked.

Today I read in a magazine that sometimes boys are afraid to ask a girl out again if they went a little too far on the first date. They're either embarrassed or else they don't want to get involved. Is this true? — JO ANNE

DEAR JO ANNE:

Yes. You can be sure a "fast" boy knows which girls put out and which don't. When you allowed more than he expected, he probably figured you for what you are! A nice gal who confuses petting with love and he wasn't buying any of that "serious" stuff.

Next time play it cool.—H.

Ross Volunteers Bring Understanding To Psychiatric Patients On Ward 2E

ization and to preserve as much as possible a patient's self responsibility, says the Dept. of Psychiatry chief, Dr. William J. Dickerson.

Patients dress in street clothes, care for themselves as much as is advisable and continue as many of their everyday activities as possible. There are liberal visiting hours for family and friends and private telephones for patients' use.

THE VOLUNTEERS serve as people, not professionals. Their main contribution is personal contact. The volunter is friend and listener, offering continuing touch with persons and activities outside the hospital.

One volunteer who lives nearby offers her swimming pool to patients, who, accompanied by a staff member, go for a dip on warm days.

Another volunteer who is a member of Alcoholics Anonymous has set up an A.A. group in the hospital on Wednesdays. The meeting is for alcoholics only so no medical personnel attend, and the group pays rent to the hospital through its contributions for the space. Thus those hospitalized with an alcoholic problem can easily enter the A.A. program.

The volunters find that there is often a fine line between normal and abnormal emotional disturbance. One morning, Mrs. Hetzner said, a patint recited this jingle she had composed during the night:

"My stay in a mental ward raises this doubt—
If I am in, how come you are out?"

The volunteer feels at the end of a day her own troubles may seem less significant, and that she has had a chance to learn tolerance and compassion for others.

"I find that working with them is so extremely rewarding to myself," remarks a volunteer.

The volunteer service on 2E began about six years ago through the mental health department and a few years ago became a part of the Ross Hospital Volunteers. Before volunteers are accepted to work with the psychiatric wing patients they spend six months serving on the general hospital wards. Then they are interviewed by the president of the volunteer service and the head psychiatrist, and those with stable background and volunteer record begin service on 2E.

THE UNUSUAL freedom of activity for psychiatric program patients is something new, and it requires a special attitude in the volunteers who assist with them. The doctors at Ross are all for treating the patient as you would your next door neighbor, a volunteer explained.

That is why, with the opening of a psychiatric program at Marin General Hospital imminent, volunteers from the larger hospital have been over to Ross to observe the volunteers' methods on wing 2E, where, as Dr. Dickerson explains, the volunteers play a vital role in keeping the average hospitalization time for psychiatric patients to about 11 days.

YOU MAY be gourmet or gourmand, or perhaps, neither. But, if you do any cooking you've bumped into words of foreign origin which have become a part of the recipes.

What, for instance, is a meat stock or broth usually prepared with beef? It's bouillon, easy to spell if you remember that the "i" goes before the two "l's."

When food is cut into thin, matchlike strips, it's called by a word derived from the French. That word is julienne.

ONE WORD which seems to cause high confusion is Marinade. This is simply a seasoned, acid mixture, with or without oil, in which meats, cooked or uncooked, vegetables, and occasionally, fruits are allowed to stand. It gives flavor to foods; it may help to tenderize meat if there's enough acid in it (lemon juice or vinegar).

Marinade is the acid mixture. If you are using the mixture, you are "marinating."

Storing Opened Jars Of Fruit

Opened jars of preserved fruit products, such as jellies, jams, and preserves, and opened cans of fruits and fruit juices need refrigeration to keep the food from spoiling. Any of these products may be stored safely in its original container, glass, or tin, but it is advisable to cover the container. Reconstituted frozen juice concentrates should also be covered, and refrigerated. Glass or plastic containers are ferferred over tin because tin cans may impart a metallic flavor.

Shopping in the Village with Pat Reynolds

Town & Country Village

June is bustin' out all over The Village! Shops are chocked full of unique and traditional gifts for weddings, Father's Day and graduations. All Village Shops are open Friday evenings for your shopping convenience and, remember, window shoppers are always welcome at Strawberry!

I can think of few more attractive restaurant settings for private parties than KUBLAI KHAN. This restaurant welcomes small parties and the arrangements and table appointments would do any hostess proud. Of course, KUBLAI KHAN's fine Oriental and Continental cuisine and excellent service are certain to impress your guests with your good taste.

So that cuddly canine couples should not feel left out of June wedding wonders, MUTTS OF MARIN is featuring a Bridal Window complete with attendants all dolled up in the proper wedding attire. (Would I kid you?!)

You say Dad has a liking for a certain fine wine or whiskey? . . . but you're never quite sure just what kind to buy for a gift? Well, step into VILLAGE LIQUORS and plan with Dan. This shop carries all the most looked for potables as well as many hard to find labels . . . and VILLAGE LIQUORS will be happy to create a gift package for your favorite father.

The Mother of The Bride need no longer feel like a forgotten soul when shopping for her outfit for The Big Day. CONTESSA ANGELA OF ROMA has recognized this crying need and creates perfectly stunning attire for those Very Important Mothers.

If Dad is a bit on the conservative side, he probably already knows about the fine lines of good looking male attire at CARLTON'S VILLAGE SPORTSWEAR. But, maybe The Dear Boy has a hidden urge to try something just a bit away from the traditional in the way of clothing. So, CARLTON'S is ready with those very popular Nehru jackets and shirts, also long and short sleeved turtlenecks. Another sure-fire hit for Father's Day is their one-size fits all Toga robe. This is reversible from solid color terry to WOW cotton print.

Panicky planners of summer weddings should check into L'ENTREE catering service. Master Chef, Louis Reimers, is a past master at all sorts of catering. He'll put your mind at ease and really take over, whether you are planning a grand celebration or a quiet reception at home. Louis makes his own wedding cakes (and glorious towering wonders they are too) and has a most complete wine list available in a wide price range. Oh, harried Mother of the Bride, call L'ENTREE and relax.

How To Flatter A Man Department: Roger Gallet cologne and aftershave in the same fragrance created originally for Napoleon (yet!) THE GOLDEN CHERUB, a charming bath boutique, carries the above item, plus many other Father's Day gift ideas. They suggest their fine Italian imported after-shave and cologne . . . also closet and drawer fresheners in the shape of a salty (ceramic) sea captain. Ahoy, all "first mates"?

Especially for that sweet guy with a sweet tooth on Father's Day, VILLAGE SWEET SHOPPE (formerly Edy's of Marin) offers a handsome Domino box of Blum's famous licorice. This one pound box contains more shapes and kinds of licorice than I dreamed existed. And, long after the goodies are gone, the good looking Domino box will be enjoyed for many uses. Many other sweet treats at VILLAGE SWEET SHOPPE and I'll just bet Dad will be so pleased he'll be happy to share his gift! (Sneaky thought!)

Fancy-free footwork . . . handsome sandals for men at THE SANDAL. This shop carries many styles of good looking, harness leather sandals for men, as well as ever-popular loafers and desert boots, with the famous Verde label. Of course, THE SANDAL has an outstanding collection of toe-wiggling sandals for women . . . everything from colorful patent thongs to clickety brass heeled numbers for hostess wear.

Brides-to-be find the Bride's Corner at ROJEAN'S CARD & PARTY SHOP a quiet haven amid often frantic pre-wedding days. Here they can select all their wedding stationery needs and pretty paper decor for the reception.

When you treat Dad to a Father's Day dinner at THE HICK'RY PIT, you can be certain he'll be more than pleased. In fact, the moderate prices at this family restaurant allow the kids to "spring" for this treat. The man sized steaks here, barbecued over a sizzling wood fire, are a sure favorite for Father's Day (or any day for that matter) and those marvelous HICK'RY PIT barbecued spareribs will delight the whole family. The exclusive barbecue sauce at THE HICK'RY PIT is not too highly seasoned, it's just right for everyone's taste. Actually a Father's Day dinner at THE HICK'RY PIT is sort of a "boomerang gift" . . . Dad is sure to like this place and want to return often . . . with the family!

Homemaking Skills Learned

By JEANNE LESEM

NEW YORK (UPI)—Today's bride may not know how to put together a loaf of bread from scratch, but in many ways she is as well prepared for homemaking as her counterpart was a generation ago.

So says Dr. Doris Hanson, a home economist, who cites various sources for a girl's preparation for her new role in the kitchen.

One source for meal planning, cooking and nutrition training is the nation's junior and senior high schools, says Dr. Hanson, executive director of the American Home Economics Association (AHEA).

AT THIS AGE, grades 7 through 12, some 4.6 million girls and boys enrolled in home economics classes in 1966. This statistic comes from the U.S. Office of Education, which said it included 50 per cent of all girls and one per cent of all boys in those grades.

Dr. Hanson said many girls already know how to cook when they enroll in home economics courses. They've learned at home or in Girl Scout troops, Four-H Clubs or the Future Homemakers of America, a girls' organization partially sponsored by the AHEA.

"Youngsters in home economics classes often know much more about cooking (than earlier generations)," she added. "It's not unusual for five and six-year-olds to learn to make cakes and cookies from mixes. Fourth graders often ask their mothers for money to buy mixes."

Yet a rumor persists that fewer girls know how to cook.

Dr. Hanson figured that "this growing myth" is fed by dramatic changes that have taken place in home economics teaching, and changes in the educational system generally that put more emphasis on the scientific and the scholarly. Another growing new dimension is vocational home economics which prepares young people for wage-earning.

SHE SAID LESS classroom time is spent now on cooking and sewing in home economics courses and more on total family living. The latter includes child development, home management involving budgeting of time, money and effort by members of a family, and consumer education, which teaches good shopping habits.

The emphasis in cooking classes is on meal planning and good nutrition, Dr. Hanson said.

Youngsters also are getting away from stereotyped food patterns that include a meat and potatoes dinner or that regard orange juice, bacon and eggs as the only acceptable breakfast.

In today's home economics class, a teacher may talk about a meal typical of a particular culture, analyze it for nutritional value and have her pupils prepare such a meal. Or she may assign party food preparation to demonstrate a lesson on the role of food in social life—in breaking down communications barriers and as a symbol of hospitality and friendliness.

Peacock Court Is Scene Of Wedding Reception Sunday

A late afternoon wedding took place Sunday for Marilee Jo Michael and H. Paul Breslin. The son of Dr. and Mrs. William Breslin of Toronto, Ontario, Canada and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy M. Michael, San Rafael, repeated their vows in the Room of Dons at Mark Hopkins Hotel in San Francisco.

Maureen Michael of San Rafael was her sister's maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Philip Michael, the bride's sister-in-law of Washington, D. C. and the groom's sister, Mrs. Harvey Newton of Portola Valley. Best man was Dr. Harvey Newton of Portola Valley, brother-in-law of the groom. Philip Roy Michael, brother-in-law of the groom of Washington, D. C. and Bruce Fogle, Ontario, Canada, ushered.

A dinner-dance reception was held at Peacock Court in the hotel with the couple traveling to the East Coast, New York and Toronto, Canada, for their wedding trip. They will reside in San Francisco.

Mrs. Breslin is a graduate of San Rafael High School and holds a B. S. degree from the University of California Medical Center in San Francisco. She is employed as a physical therapist at the Sunshine School for Handicapped Children in that city. Grandparents of the bride are Mrs. Maurice Rhine and Mrs. Sadie Michael, both of San Francisco.

The groom earned his LLB degree at Stanford Law School after attending the University of Toronto. He is employed as a law clerk for a U. S. District Court judge in San Francisco.

Smooth Syrup

To prevent graininess in making sugar syrup for boiled frostings, cover closely for the first five minutes of cooking. This method will steam-melt any sugar crystals which might cling to the sides of the pan.

Compote Idea

Dried fruits, such as peaches, pears and apples, make a tasty desert when soaked overnight—or longer—in brandy or white wine. Just put the fruit in a covered pan with some brandy or wine, with added sugar to taste, and leave in a cool corner of the kitchen. The dish can be served alone or with ice cream or a semi-soft cheese.

Harbor Point Lot Splits Voted Down

Harbor Point developer Stanley W. Taylor yesterday lost his bid for more and smaller lots on East Strawberry Drive.

The Marin County Planning Commission unanimously rejected his request to divide three lots into four at 539 Strawberry Drive and one lot into four at 425 Strawberry Drive.

A delegation of residents from Harbor Point, including the Sisters of Mercy and the Sisters of the Holy Family, applauded the decision.

The motion for denial, by Margaret Azevedo, said further lot splits by Taylor are contrary to the original intent of the design, involve excessive grading, and the density would be higher than the prevailing density established in the area.

Developer Taylor, an attorney, represented himself, while attorney Paul McComish was spokesman for the residents.

The Marin County Planning Commission also:

LOT SPLI T— Granted a lot split in the 700 block of Bay Road, near Marin Drive, Tamalpais Valley, for Rex Rathbun. The lots would be 8,446 square feet and 8,776 square feet, but the planning staff said the slope is too steep to permit two building sites. The planning commission granted the lot split on condition Rathbun come in for a design review of the homes he plans to build.

ELDERLY HOME — Approved the design and development plans for the Golden Hinde Senior Citizens Home on 73,500 square feet, at the southwest corner of Golden Hinde Boulevard and Ranchitos Road in Los Ranchitos. The design, by Faradg Gilan-Farr, has 40 units plus a recreation-social hall.

SADE APARTMENTS — Set June 24 as the time to hear a rezoning request by San Rafael developer Paul Sade, who wants to build 292 apartments on 14.6 acres between Smith Ranch Road and Las Gallinas Golf Course. Planner Wayne Moody recommended 18 units per acre instead of 20, which would bring the total units to 277.

HOWELL REZONING — Voted 4 to 1 to deny higher density zoning for Mary T. Howell's 40,000 square foot property on Pinehill Road near Woodside Avenue, Tamalpais Valley. The area is now zoned for 16 apartment units. Mrs. Howell sought at least 20 units and preferably 24. Commissioner Niels Schultz Jr., the lone dissenter, said 40 units could have been built on the lot until it was rezoned in May of 1967, and 20 units would be an acceptable compromise.

LAND EXCAVATION — Passed a resolution asking the county supervisors to take action against Frank Gilardi, who excavated his property at Almonte Boulevard and Shoreline Highway. In June 1965, Gilardi got a use permit to build a service garage there. He excavated the property but has made no improvements since then. The commissioners asked that the $5,000 performance bond posted by Gilardi be called in and used to erect a retaining wall at the foot of the cut.

BOLINAS LAGOON — Refused to withdraw opposition to proposed dredging of the lagoon by the Bolinas Harbor District after rejecting a protest by the district's planning consultant, Norman T. Gilroy, that the harbor district board had not been notified the planning commission intended to discuss the matter. County Planning Director Paul C. Zucker said Gilroy attended the commission's May 20 meeting when discussion of lagoon dredging was ordered for yesterday's agenda and was aware the matter was coming up.

Indians named a 666-square-mile marsh Okefenokee, or "land of trembling earth," because its floating islands of matted vegetation swayed under their weight.

Mill Valley Rooftop Signs Plan Criticized By County

The Marin County Planning Commissioners yesterday took a dim view of Mill Valley's proposal to allow roof-top signs along Highway 101.

The commissioners passed a resolution opposing the roof-sign clause of the "highway frontage sign zone," which would be set up under a zoning amendment proposed by Mill Valley.

"The roof sign is particularly objectionable because it tends to disrupt the architectural outline of a building," said County Planning Director Paul C. Zucker. "If a high sign is justified, a pole sign is usually more acceptable than a roof sign."

Under Mill Valley's proposed zoning amendment, existing roof signs such as Sabella's and Goldman's would be allowed to remain, said Zucker. These signs would eventually have to be removed under the existing Mill Valley ordinance.

Both Mill Valley and the county outlawed roof signs some time ago, said Zucker. Other cities which prohibit roof signs are Corte Madera, Novato, Ross, Sausalito and Tiburon.

The longest drydock in North America is located in Boston.

Novato Fire Chief Warns Of Summer Blaze Hazards

Novato Fire Chief George J. Cavallero today warned all Novato area residents to take necessary precautions to prevent house and grass fires during the dry and windy summer months.

Cavallero suggested homeowners check garden hoses for needed repairs or replacement. Hoses should be at least one-half inch in diameter and long enough to reach 25 feet past the incinerator and to reach all areas of the property, he said.

Weeds, the back yard incinerator, flammable liquid storage areas and garage storage areas should be closely checked for potential fire hazards, Cavallero said.

Each person in the family should review house fire exits and safety measures to take in case of fire, including how to report a fire, he said. Children should be warned of the fire danger at this time of year and cautioned to stay away from hills where they might be trapped by a grass fire, he added.

The fire department will inspect any home for fire hazards upon request, the chief said. Free copies of the residential burning regulations are available from any of Novato's fire stations.

Alabama has 21 colleges.

Vandals Strike Water Tank Area

Vandals struck twice during the weekend at the top of Skyview Drive in San Rafael where a water tank is under construction.

A $275 portable generator and an axe belonging to Spence and Sullivan, a paint contractor, were stolen Saturday morning and equipment was thrown about.

A six-foot tall butane tank was rolled down a hill toward Highway 101 yesterday morning as were 50 gallon drums of diesel fuel and gasoline.

Theodore Harrington, foreman for the paint contractor, said the butane tank might have exploded in rolling down the hill.

Parallel Parking

A proposal to replace diagonal parking with parallel parking on San Anselmo Avenue will be discussed by the San Anselmo City Council at 8 p.m. today. The council will also consider a proposed agreement accepting the Robson-Harrington Park from trustees for the property.

Hamilton Hosts State Guard Unit

The military population of Hamilton Air Force Base has increased by 73 men and 15 aircraft in the past two weeks.

The cause is the arrival of the 144th Fighter Group, a component of the California Air National Guard, for a two-month stay while runway repairs are made at the group's home station in Fresno.

While the guard unit is here it is under the command of Lt. Col. George R. Sparks, the unit deputy commander for operations at Fresno.

Making the job of being away from home for operational purposes even more challenging, the unit stands alert around the clock at Castle Air Force Base near Merced.

Operating from three locations poses a problem in scheduling alert duty at Castle, training flights at Hamilton, and the normal weekend training for other members of the unit.

Since their arrival unit personnel have set up offices and shops in buildings scattered around the base.

Members of the flying crews who pilot the unit's F102 Delta Daggers are brought from Fresno to Hamilton nightly to fly missions and then return home.

The unit is scheduled to return to Fresno in mid-July following completion of the work on the runway.

Today is Tuesday, June 11, the 163rd day of 1968 with 203 to follow.

The moon is between its full phase and last quarter. The morning stars are Saturn and Venus. The evening star is Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1920 Ohio Sen. Warren Harding was called to a Chicago hotel and informed he would be the dark horse Republican candidate for president.

In 1927 Charles Lindbergh was welcomed home by President Calvin Coolidge after his historic solo flight across the Atlantic to Paris.

In 1950 Ben Hogan won the U.S. Open Golf Championship only 16 months after suffering near-fatal injuries in an automobile accident.

In 1963 federalized National Guard troops stood by as Gov. George Wallace allowed two negroes to enroll at the University of Alabama.

A thought for the day: Spanish novelist Miguel de Cervantes once said, "Tell me thy company and I'll tell thee what thou art."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

The column of heights gives the elevation in feet of each tide above or below the plane of Coast Survey chart soundings. The depths are always additive to the chart depths unless preceded by a minus sign (-), when the numbers are subtracted from the depth given in the chart. Light-face type indicates a.m. times; bold-face type indicates p.m. times.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

For The Bridge Player, Game Of Guessing Is Not The Rule

If you could always guess right when you had two choices you wouldn't have time to play bridge. You'd be too busy playing the market or serving as president of the world. Fortunately, bridge players don't always have to guess.

WINS WITH ACE

South took the ace of clubs, cashed the king of spades and then led the ten of spades for a finesse. This lost to the queen, and declarer took only four trump tricks, one heart and the two side aces. Down one.

"I didn't guess who had the queen of spades," South admitted, "but I made the only correct play. My way of playing the trumps left it possible to pick up the queen if there were four trumps to my right. That wouldn't be possible if I played the queen of trumps to be at my left."

It sounded very learned, but it wasn't true. There was no need for South to guess which opponent had the queen of spades because there was no need for him to draw trumps in a hurry.

REFUSES FIRST TRICK

Declarer should refuse the first trick. West continues with a club, and South takes the ace of clubs and ruffs a club. Then he leads the low heart, losing the queen to East's king. Since the defenders cannot tackle diamonds without losing a diamond trick, East returns a heart to the ace; and West leads the ten of clubs to make South ruff again.

WHAT HE WANTS

This reduces South to three trumps, which is just what he wants. He cashes the heart, takes the ace of diamonds and leads another diamond, letting the defenders take their two diamond tricks. Then the opponents must give declarer a free trump finesse no matter which one of them is on lead. This assures the contract without guesswork.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid one heart.

Even the weak four-card major suit is worth showing. If partner cannot raise the hearts, you can think of diamonds or notrump.

$226,220 Sewer Budget Submitted

A preliminary budget of $226,220 for fiscal 1968-69 was submitted to Novato Sanitary District directors last night.

Directors took no action but will review it June 24, Dist. Mgr. Charles A. Joseph reported.

The proposed budget calls for an increase of $23,485 over this year's budget of $202,735. The budget would require a tax rate of 29 cents per $100 assessed valuation, based on an anticipated 3 per cent increase in property taxes, Joseph said. This year's tax rate is 28.5 cents.

Novato residents would pay an additional 5.5 cents for repayment of bonds, Joseph said. The bond tax this year is 6.5 cents.

The proposed budget allocates $92,020 for treatment plant salaries, maintenance and supplies as compared to $75,250 this year; $37,095 for sewer maintenance and salaries as compared to $35,410 this year, and $97,105 for administration and engineering costs including salaries as compared to $92,075 this year.

Joseph said he hopes to submit a capital improvements budget on June 24. Funds for capital improvements have been included in the proposed budget categories, he said.

Property taxes would raise $168,991 in the proposed budget total as compared to $161,139 this year. The remaining funds would be received from sewer connection charges and other fees, he said.

Session Tonight

The Marin chapter of the California Committee to Legalize Abortion will meet at 8:15 p.m. today in Pacific Day School at 40 Shell Road, Mill Valley.

Higher Garbage Rates Proposed For Novato

An increase of 20 cents per month in residential garbage collection rates was recommended to the Novato Sanitary District board last night.

In a preliminary report, a board subcommittee recommended that the rates be increased from $1.70 to $1.90 per month for the weekly collection of a 35-gallon garbage can, Dist. Mgr. Charles A. Joseph reported.

Novato Disposal Service last month requested an increase to $2 per can per month, Joseph said. Final rate recommendations for residential, multiple residential (apartments) and commercial collection will be presented to the board June 20, Joseph said.

The Novato Sanitary District Board Also:

BEL MARIN KEYS — Accepted the sewer main extension in Bel Marin Keys Unit 3, subject to the payment to the district of $3,192.50 in outstanding fees.

IMPROVMENTS — Reviewed plans for compressor station improvements in the Scottsdale subdivision. The improvements, estimated to cost $3,300, would be financed by the city out of Scottsdale assessment district funds, Joseph said.

DIABLO AVENUE — Reviewed plans for sewerage modifications for the city's Diablo Avenue street improvement project. The modifications are estimated to cost $550, according to Joseph.

ASSESSMENT DISTRICT — Approved proposed assessment district boundaries and the engineer's report for the Simmons Lane-Simmons Court sewer assessment district. Also set the assessment district hearing and the opening of bids for 2 p.m. July 22. The project will extend sewers to nine properties on Simmons Lane and Simmons Court between Novato Boulevard and Virginia Avenue.

MEETING — Set the next board meeting for 6 p.m. June 20 at North Marin Water District offices, 999 Atherton Avenue, Novato.

Col. Bohnaker Retires At Base

Col. William J. Bohnaker, commander of the Sixth Air Force Reserve region for the past two years, retired last week in informal ceremonies held at Hamilton Air Force Base.

Bike-Car Crash Hurts Youngster

An 11-year-old Fairfax boy suffered multiple bruises and sprains yesterday when his bicycle tangled with a car at the intersection of Oak Manor View and Mariele Drive in Fairfax.

Jon P. Palsson, son of Eugene Palsson of 40 Marielle Drive, was thrown from his bicycle at 5:30 p.m., according to the California Highway Patrol. The boy is a pupil at the Manor School in Fairfax.

The car was driven by Larry Watson, 20, of 200 Bolinas Avenue, Apt. 22, Fairfax, officers reported.

Woman Poet Gets $7,000 Arts Grant

Mrs. Adrianne Marcus, San Rafael poet and parttime instructor at College of Marin, has received a $7,000 grant from the National Council of the Arts in recognition of her literary talent and to further her writing career.

Roger L. Stevens, chairman of the council, said that the grant has no restrictions and will be paid quarterly for a year.

Mrs. Marcus said that she plans to use part of the money to hire household help and to rent an office so that she may write more.

She plans to continue working as a volunteer, teaching poetry at West End and Sun Valley Schools in San Rafael, and will teach a new course, contemporary American poetry, starting in September in the community education series at College of Marin.

Mrs. Marcus was chosen for the grant on the basis of 40 poems she submitted to the council last year. Maximum grant awarded to an individual by council is $10,000, Stevens said.

Mrs. Marcus is the wife of Warren Marcus, San Rafael men's store owner. They and their three children, ages 9, 7 and 4 months, live at 79 Twin Oaks Avenue.

More Classes For Deaf Being Urged

The Kentfield School District board last night voted to authorize the county schools office to continue studying the feasibility of placing four classrooms for deaf pupils on the Adaline E. Kent School campus.

The county now has one class for deaf and hard of hearing children at the school.

Supt. Anthony G. Bacich told the board that there will be a 4.4 per cent increase in assessed valuation in the district this year, instead of the 3 per cent rise previously projected by county officials.

The board also hired Mrs. Beverly Davis at $6,820 a year as an art teacher at Kent School.

Auction House Plans To Get More Hearing

The Tiburon City Council wasn't sure last night that Tiburon is ready for an auction house on Main Street and continued a hearing on it until June 24. (See also Tiburon council story, page 1.)

Theodore P. Lambros, attorney for applicant Edward Karr, said he objected to the city's demand that Karr provide parking for the operation. He said Karr only planned to have about six auctions a year at the Parklane Antique Shop, proposed for 9 Main Street by Richard E. Levinson.

Sheriff's Lt. William Johansen recommended denial of the application because of parking, traffic and loading problems on this corner of Tiburon's narrow Main Street.

Development Administrator Phil V. Scott said the building was substandard and would be hazardous. He said another exit would be needed and a one-hour fire wall.

"It's the first time I've run into this kind of opposition," Karr said.

"It's the first time Tiburon considered an auction house," answered Councilman Branwell D. Fanning.

Mayor William R. Bremer asked Karr to work with City Mgr. Lawrence D. Rose and the police on the problems involved, and said the planning commission will also be asked for an opinion before the council's June 24 meeting.

A final hearing on whether Tiburon wants moderate income housing at the Hilarita Site was put off again. It was to be reset last night, but Councilman Thomas E. Drohan reported the city had received a petition from 41 Hilarita residents requesting that low-cost housing be considered.

Councilmen discussed the idea of putting the Hilarita question to a referendum and referred it to a committee of Mayor Bremer and Councilman Drohan.

Tiburon, Belvedere Agree To 'Front Door' Lot Swap

Tiburon councilmen last night agreed to work with Belvedere on a land transfer for "Belvedere's front door" but let Belvedere know they also wanted some land for "Tiburon's front door."

Belvedere Councilman Edwin J. Drechsel presented his city's case for the transfer to Belvedere of seven parcels of land at the entrance to Belvedere, on San Rafael Avenue and Lagoon Road, with an assessed value of $42,070.

The transfer was requested in a petition by property owners.

Drechsel said, asking that Tiburon consent to the petition as Belvedere had. It would then be sent to the Local Agency Formation Commission.

The parcels were found to be drawn within Tiburon's boundary after the city was incorporated in 1964. Before that, they had always been considered part of Belvedere, Drechsel said.

Tiburon councilmen told Dreschel they thought the land swap should include the transfer to Tiburon from Belvedere of a triangular piece of land at Tiburon Boulevard and Mar West Street, "Tiburon's front door." Drechsel asked that the two items be considered separately, however.

Councilmen voted to have City Mgr. Lawrence D. Rose work out the consent to transfer the seven parcels from Tiburon to Belvedere, with City Mgr. William L. Cavalli of Belvedere.

Mayor William R. Bremer then ordered Rose to prepare a resolution for the transfer of the triangular slice of property, owned by Frederick G. Zelinsky of Belvedere, major developer of Tiburon's Main Street, for the June 24 meeting.

Zelinsky said he heartily favored the land being traded to Tiburon.

Teacher Hirings Are Left To New Schools Chief

New Supt. Clarence B. Larison will choose teachers to fill two vacancies in the district, the Bolinas-Stinson School District board agreed last night.

The board met in closed session to discuss hiring teachers, but agreed to have Larison choose when he takes over July 1 as district superintendent and principal of Bolinas School.

Board chairman Alyce Thompson said Supt. Keith Oveson is ill and left school yesterday and will not return before his term ends June 30. Kenneth E. Barnes, curriculum co-ordinator in the Marin County Schools office, will act as superintendent until Larison arrives.

The board will meet at 8 p.m. today at Bolinas School in regular session.

52 To Graduate

Lagunitas School will graduate 51 eighth grade students at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at the school's multipurpose room. Two awards will be given, a citizenship plaque from the San Geronimo Valley Lion's Club and a scholarship from the San Geronimo Valley Association.

MOST WANTED—Bank robber Phillip Morris Jones, alias Philip Morris or Dennis James Mummert, 27, has been added to the "10 most wanted fugitives" list by the FBI. He is 6 feet, 1 inch tall, weighs 195-210 pounds, has dark brown hair, medium complexion, blue or gray eyes and a scar on his left thumb.

'Solidarity Picnic' To Aid Campaign

A "solidarity picnic" scheduled for Saturday in Boyle Park, Mill Valley, will raise funds to help send eight Marin residents to Washington for the June 19 climax of the Poor People's Campaign.

Entertainment will include folksingers, rock bands and sports. Picnickers will bring their own food. Entry to the picnic is free but donations will be asked for the Washington trip.

Charles Richardson, leader of the delegation, will speak and explain the group's aims. Dr. Daniel Collins, former member of the state Board of Education, and Rev. Samuel L. Banks Jr. also will speak.

The picnic is intended to affirm that Marin County is one society, not two, according to Alan Barnett of the Mill Valley Community Relations Committee, which is sponsoring the event.

Novotny Asks Trial Change; Claims Unfair News Play

Dennis C. Novotny, 22, one of three men accused of murdering a San Rafael resident Dec. 6, yesterday sought to move his trial from Marin Superior Court on grounds of unfair news publicity.

The motion for a change of venue, filed by Novotny's attorney, Michael Lewton of San Francisco, asks that the trial be transferred to San Francisco Superior Court.

It declares "a fair and impartial trial cannot be had" in Marin County and adds that there was " a great deal of unfair publicity given to this case by various news media."

Accompanying the request was a declaration by Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Superior Court that comments he had made were correctly reported in a March 6 story, in the San Rafael Independent-Journal.

Judge Wilson at that time sealed all grand jury indictment transcripts of testimony in narcotics cases rising out of a massive February 23 roundup of narcotics suspects in Marin. His purpose, he was quoted as saying in the March 6 story, was to prevent the press from giving pre-trial publicity to persons accused of serious crimes.

He said that the order was prompted by the Independent-Journal's publication in January of Claude (Frenchy) LeBas's confession to the grand jury that he participated in the fatal beating of the San Rafael man, Wesley L. Marshall. The confession implicated Novotny.

The sealing order is being contested by the Independent-Journal in a written request filed with the First District of Appeals in San Francisco.

Judge Harold J. Haley, who heard the change of venue motion yesterday, scheduled a day-long hearing of arguments on the matter for 10 a.m. June 20.

He also scheduled setting of a jury trial for Novotny to follow the hearing. Novotny, of San Rafael, pleaded innocent June 3. LeBas pleaded guilty and has been sentenced to life in prison.

The third defendant, John Arceo, 31, of Fairfax, has a motion for dismissal of the charge against him pending on grounds that the grand jury transcript used to indict him fails to show he aided in the commission of the crime.

Hearing on that motionf is scheduled for 4 p.m. Thursday, also before Judge Haley.

Marshall, a gun collector, was fatally beaten and stomped.

San Francisco Teachers Raised

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A 6 per cent pay increase for teachers and a 10 per cent hike for classified employees have been approved by the board of education.

Supt. Robert Jenkins said yesterday the decision will boost the school budget to $96.8 million for the next fiscal year, some $2.2 million more than the assigned income.

He expects, however, to make up the deficit by "phasing" some new education programs.

Jenkins told the board that a plan to reduce class size by adding 300 teachers would not be affected.

They're Being Extra Cautious For U. S. Open

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — The U.S. Golf association is taking extra cautions that there will be no repetition of l'affaire De Vicenzo in the Open Championship, starting Thursday.

Tightest security measures—including an off-limits tent and armed patrolmen—will be taken to protect players rechecking their score cards at the 18th green at the Oak Hill Country Club.

"This is simply a refinement of what we have been doing since the Jackie Pung incident in 1957," said Joseph C. Dey, executive director of the USGA. "But the player will be given every chance to check his card in privacy."

Roberto De Vicenzo of Argentina blew his chance to tie Bob Goalby for the Masters crown at Augusta in April when he negligently signed for a four on a hole on which he had taken a three in full view of television's millions.

The mistake caused him loss of a stroke, just enough to knock him out of a playoff for the title, worth $25,000 in cash and supposedly worth $1 million in other opportunities.

The celebrated error caused an uproar among fans and critics, who contended golf rules were outmoded and should be changed.

Under golf rules, a man is responsible for his own card. If he signs for more strokes than he made, he is stuck with them. If he signs for less, he is disqualified.

The USGA will have a tent inside the ropes of the 18th green this weekend to be presided over by P.G. Boatright, assistant executive director of the USGA.

On each side of the tent will be two broad white lines. Nobody—and that includes USGA brass as well as press and television personnel—will be permitted beyond those lines.

Four armed state patrolmen will see that this restriction is enforced.

When each group finishes its round, the players will be escorted to the tent where they will recheck their cards.

Boatright will be available for any rechecking, as will a member of the rules committee who has followed the group.

All will have a full view of the scoreboard.

"No committee members will be allowed inside the tent," Dey explained. "Only Boatright and the rules member. I will go in only to make any decisions necessary.

"Everyone else is forbidden."

Mrs. Pung, a Hawaiian housewife, was disqualified for signing an erroneous scorecard after she had apparently won the Women's Open at Winged Foot in Mamaroneck, N.Y., in 1957.

At the time, it was said she was distracted by the press and well-wishers.

The press can't get close here.

"The press will have its own roped-in corral," Dey said. "Twenty feet from the tent."

Great Chance At Prize For Indy Prognosticator

PEERLESS PICKER — Ray Cerutti of Cerutti Brothers Richfield service station in San Rafael just might rate as "Luckiest Sports Prognosticator of the Year." Or close to it.

In April, Cerutti received an entry black in the mail from the Fram Oil Co., inviting him to predict the winning car number and its average speed in the Indianapolis 500-mile race.

"The cars hadn't even qualified yet," explained Cerutti, "so I just took a wild guess. I wrote down Car No. 3 and 153.456 miles an hour."

Well, a month after Cerutti jotted down his "wild guess" Bobby Unser drove Car No. 3 to victory at the average speed of 152.882 mph. Which, if my dumbbell math hasn't betrayed me, is only .574 mph off Cerutti's guess.

Now, here's where the "luck" comes in.

"The funny thing about it," said Cerutti, "is that I forgot to mail the prediction to the company that sponsored the contest. But, my brother, Harry, saw it lying on the counter and he put in in the mail. I have received a letter from the company saying they received the prediction. Now, I'm just waiting to hear if I've won a prize."

Could Be A Car, A Boat

The prizes are quite attractive, like a new car, a boat and motor, a fur coat, a trip to next year's Indianapolis, lots of cash, etc.

If Ray Cerutti wins one of those, I'm sure brother Harry will demand a share.

NAME GAME — The Western Baseball Association, of which San Rafael's Litchfield raves are members, has given dugout jockeys a lot of fun with the nicknames of some teams.

Like, for example, the Santa Rosa Rosebuds. Think of all the fun opposing players must have when a burly, 220-pound Santa Rosa player steps up to the plate: "Oh, yoo-hoo, hello there, rosebud." It must be a real thorny problem. I'm waiting for someone to scribble on the side of the Santa Rosa team bus: "Petal Pusher."

Those Beloved Crabs

Then, of course, there are the beloved Humboldt Crabs of Eureka. Joe Anselmo's San Rafael Braves made cioppino out of 'em Sunday, after which the crustaceans crawled out of town. Sideways.

Tonight, the Bellingham Bells invade San Rafael for a two-day, three-game series that promises to be a hum-dinger, very a-pealing.

There's not much you can say about the San Rafael team's nickname. Except that, since admission to their games is free, then Albert Field, the home of the Braves, is indeed the land of the free. (Golly, I shoulda been a songwriter — Francis Scott Gilmartin. Or do you think that would be off-Key?)

Charges Against Brown Dropped By Authorities

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Authorities have dropped an assault case against former pro football star Jimmy brown in connection with a high-fashion model found injured beneath his second-floor balcony. But he still may face a charge of battery against a police officer.

Deputy Dist. Atty. Phillips Mueller said his office would not issue a complaint because of insufficient evidence. After his arrest Brown had been booked on suspicion of assault with intent to commit murder.

"There was no sufficient evidence to convict," Mueller said yesterday. "This is aside from the fact that the woman would not sign the complaint." He added, however, that a complaint could be issued if "some evidence turns up in the future."

The German-born model, Eva Marie Bohn-Chin, 22, hospitalized in fair condition, wasn't available for comment.

Mueller said his office will file a complaint charging Brown with battery against a police officer, a felony.

Deputies discovered Miss Bohn-Chin semiconscious on the concrete patio about 20 feet below Brown's balcony.

Brown was freed yesterday on $12,500 bond.

Doctors said Miss Bohn-Chin had a dislocated shoulder and bruises on her head, mouth and cheeks.

Deputy John Texeria, 165 pounds, said the 228-pound Brown knocked him seven feet with a swing of his left arm when the officer attempted to enter the apartment.

Entries Received For Net Tourney

Bob Seymour and John Williams of Mill Valley are among the early entries for the 10th annual National Men's 35 Hardcourt Tennis Championships scheduled June 19-23 at the Mill Valley Tennis Club, Chairman Richard R. Dresel announced today.

Also expected to enter are the defending champions, Don Gale of Mountain View in singles and the doubles tandem of Ed Kauder, Los Angeles, and Hugh Ditzler, Oakland.

Dresel said he will accept entried at his home, 285 North Almenar Drive, San Rafael.

Indians Whip A's In Opener

CLEVELAND (AP) — Mike Paul registered his second save in only his sixth major league appearance as the Cleveland Indians beat the Oakland Athletics 7-2 last night in the opener of a four-game series.

The young left-hander, who still has an 0.82 earned run average, issued an intentional walk to Mike Hershberger, the first batter he faced after relieving Stan Williams with two out in the seventh inning, and thus retired seven batters in a row to save the victory for Williams.

GREAT PLAY

The Indians had a 3-2 lead when Williams left the mound. The walk to Hershberger loaded the bases and then a fine play on which Larry Brown and Tony Horton collaborated helped Paul's sparkling performance get off to a good start.

Rick Monday, the Athletics' leading hitter, followed Hershberger to the plate and slashed the ball toward the hole at short. Brown fielded the ball, but had to throw off balance and the ball went into the dirt. Horton scooped it up on the first bounce and Monday was out on a close play to retire the side.

"I was running away from first when I fielded it," Brown explained. "It was a fine play by Horton."

"SHEER LUCK"

Paul's showing with the Indians is no big surprise to Manager Alvin Dark.

"He has the fast ball, the curve and the changeup," said Dark after the young hurler had stopped Oakland. "He looked like a big league pitcher to me this spring.

"Mike had the poise then and he still has it. The pressure doesn't seem to bother him."

The Indians took a 3-0 lead in the first inning. The runs were produced on Horton's sacrifice fly, Lee Maye's triple and a single by Duke Sims.

Oakland got to Williams in the seventh when Sal Bando walked and later scored on a single by Reggie Jackson. Following another walk, Bert Campaneris singled in Jackson and Paul was called from the bullpen.

OUT OF REACH

The Indians got back one of the runs in the bottom of the seventh on a double by Sims and a single by Max Alvis.

They put the game out of reach in the eighth witih another three-run outburst.

Jose Cardenal started with a single and Horton sent him home with a double. Horton scored when third baseman Bando made a wild throw on a ground ball, and then Alvis doubled in a third run.

The victory was the fifth in eight decisions for Williams, who gave up five hits and walked four batters in the 6 2-3 innings he worked.

SAN JOSE, FRESNO INCLUDED

Five California Colleges Create New Conference

LONG BEACH (AP) — Five California colleges, hoping to achieve major recognition in all sports, have formed a new athletic conference—the California Pacific Coast Athletic Association.

Dr. Fred L. Miller, athletic director at Long Beach State College, said his school, Fresno State, San Diego State, San Jose State and the University of California at Santa Barbara are members of the new league.

Miller said after the league's organizational meeting yesterday that Los Angeles State and the University of the Pacific are under consideration and considering membership.

San Jose and Santa Barbara were independent in football and members of the West Coast Athletic Conference in basketball, baseball and some minor sports. The other three competed in the California Collegiate Athletic Association.

The five embark next year on major cross country, golf, gymnastics, swimming, tennis, track, volleyball, water polo and wrestling.

During the 1969-70 school year, competition in football, basketball and baseball will begin, Miller said.

"Our group anticipates being major in all sports," he said.

The basketball and baseball program will not include San Jose and Santa Barbara during 1969-70 as they have two-year commitments to the WCAC.

Miller said he is still anticipating four-team competition in the two sports with either LA State or UOP expected to be included by that time.

San Jose has been recognized as a major in football as an independent, and San Jose, UOP and USCB have been recognized as major in basketball through membership in the WCAC.

The CCAA has conducted a football program, but it was in the college division of the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

San Diego State emerged as a football powerhouse in recent years in the college division of the NCAA, radet as the No. 1 team in the nation by most polls the last two seasons.

Sadecki Hoping For Some Runs

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Ace right-hander Juan Marichal talked more of his baserunning than his shutout pitching following the San Francisco Giants' third straight win yesterday.

Marichal, the major's winningest pitcher with an 11-2 record, was happy with his four-hit, 8-0, victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates, but was more thankful he avoided serious injury in the sixth inning.

The pitcher, on base on a fielder's choice, was streaking from from first to third base on Frank Johnson's single. After an awkward slide, Marichal was in pain.

"LUCKY"

"I was lucky I didn't break my leg," was his first comment following the game. "I have to thank God. When I hit the bag I felt the pain, and I still feel it—I just slid too late."

Marichal's shutout was his first since May 3, 1967, also by an 8-0 score at New York's Shea Stadium. Yesterday's masterful effort lowered his earned run average to 2.58.

Left-hander Ray Sadecki, who has lost four straight shutout decisions, hopes the Giants saved a few hits for tonight. Sadecki, 6-7, will be opposed by Tommie Sisk, 2-2. Gametime at Candlestick Park is at 8 o'clock.

Willie Mays and Ollie Brown each drove in a pair of runs and Jesus Alou belted two doubles to pace yesterday's attack. Brown's run-scoring single opened the scoring in the third inning off left-handed loser Bob Veale, 2-7.

ALL THE WAY

Brown's 410-foot double followed Jim Hart's single in the fifth, and Brown circled the bases when shortstop Gene Alley's relay sailed into the third base dugout.

Ron Hunt's sacrifice fly and Mays' two-run double drove in three unearned runs in the sixth.

Sharman Greets 19

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Bill Sharman, coach of the Los Angeles Stars of the American Basketball Association, greeted 19 first-year players yesterday as the club's rookie camp got underway at Loyola University.

Alou's second double, Bob Barton's single and Marichal's sacrifice added a run in the seventh.

Willie McCovey greeted left-handed reliever Juan Pizarro with a 400-foot home run in the ninth. The homer was his 11th, tying him with team-mate Hart and Mays for the National League lead.

Are Bogeys Your Bag? Then Follow The 'Open'

Every time I am asked what my favorite sport is, I always answer, "Golf." "I love Golf," I say.

It's a big lie. I hate Golf. It's not a game, it's an aggravation, the most exquisite form of self-torture this side of a guy who lies down on a bed of nails or walks on coals.

"It's good for you," say the doctors. What good?! It gives you high blood pressure, acid indigestion. It ruins your disposition, hurts your feet, peels your nose, makes your hands bleed and takes a big chunk out of your day when you could be doing something useful. It can cause a divorce, poison ivy. You can lose a job shooting 69.

NAME ME one good it does.

You're out in the air, you say? Do you have ANY idea what the pollen count is out there? Or the stoke count? Did it ever occur to you that blackish water could be a breeding ground for yellow fever? Also golf balls?

But, look at the trees, the fresh air, the greenery, you shout.

Listen! To Joyce Kilmer, that's a tree. To a bird, it's a tree. To a golfer, it's an unprintable unmentionable put there by some unprintable unmentionalbe to catch the best tee shot you've hit all day.

THAT "BABBLING BROOK," you say? Phooey! That's no "babbling brook." That's a "lateral water hazard" or a parallel one. That's a babbling 2-stroke penalty.

Smell the flowers, Walter Hagen said? YOU smell the flowers. I'll stay well clear of them. Ever try to hit a 2-iron off a geranium? Believe me, you'll HATE geraniums.

This is why I duck tournaments like that recent one at Memphis where the scores soared clear up in the high 60s when the wind came up, where the pros could break 70 without dirtying 12 of the 14 clubs in the bag, where I saw a guy PUTT out of a sand trap.

BUT THIS week, I'm going to be like a kid locked in a candy store, a dog in a butcher shop.

I'm going to Rochester for the Open. That's the one tournament a year where the pros set out with a pocketful of balls and an adding machine. That's where you will find me, helpless with laughter, holding my sides while tears streak down my cheeks as I hide behind a tree laughing at a guy trying to hit a backward iron out of a tree basin.

THIS IS NOT a fight between Joe Louis and a Bum-Of-The-Month. This course fights back. Oak Hill has been seriously weakened by the Dutch Elm blight which is defoliating the East, but Joe Dey of the USGA is one of the best fight handlers in the game. His course will be ready, all right. There's real ground-up glass in the sand traps. Try to take a putter out of THEM and you'll need a shovel for your next shot.

A NICE little rainstrom or two and it will be four days of paradise for me. I'll put myself to sleep at night with my favorite reading — Scores in The 80s. I'll pray for wind, and, when I find some crack pro hacking away through the ear-high rough, I'll ask innocently, "What's your handicap, sport? Are you a 12?"

I'LL BE WEARING my Kermit Zarley shirt, Rod Funseth slacks, Labron Harris or Dudley Wysong shoes and whistling. And, when one of the guys comes storming in with corns he's been walking so long, and a bag full of broken clubs he's been hitting so bad, and tree bark and brook silt all over him, and he doesn't add his score, he multiplies it, I'll say, "Listen! Is anything better for you than a round of golf in the fresh air and sunshine? Aren't you lucky you're not stuck in some old musty office some place when you can be out there enjoying yourself?" Then, I'm going to run like hell.

Griffith Is Solid Pick Over Heilman

OAKLAND (AP) — Emile Griffith says he might not have shown up for his 12-round middleweight fight with Andy Heilman if it had remained scheduled Friday night at the Oakland Coliseum Arena.

But both fighters, who were to weigh in today, looked forward to the bout, rescheduled for tonight with a crowd of 10,000 expected.

When Sen. Robert Kennedy died Thursday morning from an assassin's bullet, it was business as usual in some places, and this angered the 30-year-old Griffith.

"How could they do that when a great man like Sen. Kennedy had just passed away?" the former welterweight and middleweight champion asked.

"If my fight with Heilman hadn't been postponed, I might have been suspended because I doubt I would have fought."

Griffith, from New York and a solid 9-5 favorite tonight, was a strong Kennedy backer and had gone to see him at Fisherman's Wharf, in San Francisco, just 48 hours before Kennedy was shot.

Griffith, who hopes for a fourth fight with middleweight champion Nino Benvenuti, doesn't think the layoff will hurt him.

"I had two postponements before and went on to win the fights," he said.

In the case of the taller Heilman, 27, it might help.

"I got a day of rest and I might have needed it," said Heilman, who is from Los Angeles. "I felt a little worn down."

Griffith, who expected to weigh 154, was 1-2 in his fights with Benvenuti. He has scored 19 knockouts in 64 fights.

Heilman, 160, has 21 knockouts on a 40-3 record. As a pro, he has never been on the floor.

Griffith is guaranteed $12,500 or 27.5 of the gate, whichever is higher, and Heilman will get 25 per cent.

First preliminary will start at 8:30. Tickets are priced at $5, $10 and $15.

Other bouts: Forest Ward, New York, vs. Jim Gilmore, Los Angeles, heavyweights, six rounds; Claudio Adame, San Francisco vs. Andy Gonzales, Los Angeles, welterweights, plus another preliminary of four or six rounds.

State May Cut Limits On Salmon

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Fish and game officials are concerned over the future of the salmon run on the Sacramento River.

Henry Clineschmidt of the Fish and Game Commission said he may ask for a reduction of salmon fishing limits inside the Golden Gate on San Francisco Bay and the closing of more spawning areas on the river if the salmon run appears endangered.

Clineschmidt, of Redding, gave the warning as the commission called for a report on the salmon from the Fish and Game Department at a meeting in San Francscio Aug. 28.

POLLUTION, DISEASE

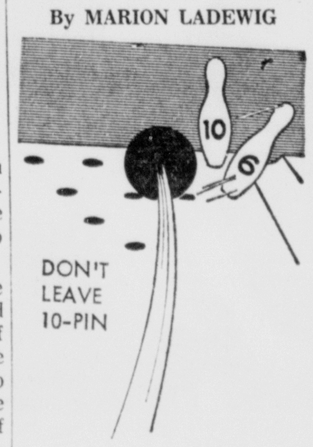
The salmon runs have been hurt for years by construction of dams, pollution of the water and disease.

But the department said the Sacramento still holds the largest King Salmon population in the world, and officials said they intend to preserve it.

In another development, the department gave fishermen permission to fish tributaries of Lake Davis in Plumas County after today. They had been closed to protect spawning trout.

BOWLING TIPS

By MARION LADEWIG



There is no sure-fire formula for avoiding the shot that chops the 6-pin from a 6-10 leave, but to reduce the chances of it I suggest moving as far as possible to the opposite corner of the approach. If there is no ball return on your left, even cheat an inch or two and move a bit outside your normal approach area.

San Rafael Hosts Bells

The Litchfield Braves of San Rafael continue on their dizzying mad-mad whirl pace tonight when they meet the challenge of the invading Bellingham, Wash., Bells at Albert Field, San Rafael.

The Bells will be here for a two-day stay, a single game tonight at 8 o'clock and a twi-light doubleheader tomorrow beginning at 7 o'clock.

The Braves will be trying to ring up three straight from the Bells, which would give then a 7-2 Western Baseball Association won-lost mark.

The came out even, 2-2, in a four-game, three-day tussle over the weekend, losing to the Santa Rosa Rosebuds and taking the Eureka Crabs, two out of three.

Astros Receive Lighter Fines

HOUSTON (UPI) — Houston Astros General Manager H. B. (Spec) Richardson said yesterday he handed out lighter fines than he might have to two players who skipped Sunday's games because he thought both of them had "deep feeling" about the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

First baseman Rusty Staub and third baseman Bob Aspromonte were fined one day's pay for not playing in Sunday's game against Pittsburgh. They both refused to play on the day designated by President Johnson as a day of mourning for Kennedy.

Knockouts Set In NCAA Meet

OMAHA, Neb. (UPI) — The knockout blow was to come for one team in Round two of the 22nd annual NCAA College World Series today, even before some of the other teams had their first taste of action.

Set to square off in the double elimination tourney at 2 p.m. (CDT) were the Harvard Crimson and the Southern Illinois Salukis. Both lost close decisions in first round games yesterday, Harvard lost to the St. John's Redmen of New York 2-0, and the Salukis dropped a 7-6 contest to North Carolina State.

On tap for tonight are games featuring Oklahoma State against Texas and Brigham Young against Southern California.

Expansion Embarrased Some N.L. 'Insiders'

Expansion of the National League to San Diego and Montreal caught the insiders with their crystal balls clouded. Prior to the surprise announcement that the swinging Canadian city and the west coast tuna capital had been awarded $10 million expansion franchises, there wasn't one correct prediction about Montreal being coupled with San Diego as the expansion quinella.

Everyone had San Diego. One nationally syndicated columnist coupled San Diego with Milwaukee and flatly stated the new franchises would be awarded to them because Buffalo and Montreal were priced out of the expansion race by the $10 million entry fee. This columnist correctly reported that Houston's Judge Roy Hofheinz scratched the Dallas-Ft. Worth entry with a silent veto.

ONE OF the press associations just a couple of days before the expansion carried an analytical piece explaining why there would be no expansion at this time. The National League, explained the article, was suffering from growing pains.

The press association piece, in essence, was precisely what one of the New York columnists wrote a week prior to the meeting of National League owners in Chicago. This fellow, whose inside sources usually are reasonably accurate, seldom has been so wrong.

THERE WERE several others who were caught with embarrassing misinformation.

How were so many misled? Surely, the press association and the columnists weren't indulging themselves in wild guesses. Indeed not. They just became victims of inside tipsters who believed they were passing along accurate information.

THE SIMPLE fact was that the owners themselves didn't know whether unanimous agreement could be reached on two expansion cities. The owners aren't difficult to talk to but what columnist could credit Montreal with a chance after hearing Walter O'Malley say: "There seems to be more sentiment for taking care of American cities before we look to Canada." And that's exactly what the owner of the Dodgers had to say about the Montreal entry.

AT THE same time he made that comment on Montreal's chances, O'Malley hinted that Hofheinz wouldn't mind if Dallad-Ft. Worth cut in on his exclusive radio and TV beams out of Houston. "He asked me about the old Giant-Dodger rivalry in New York," said O'Malley.

When the Giants made their first trip into Houston this year, Hofheinz showed no willingness to weaken his wavelengths for a potential Texas baseball rivalry — not to the tune of $300,000 a year which is what a Dallas dilution of his southwest radio market would cost.

THE COLUMNIST who wrote that San Diego-Milwaukee would be the expansion enty never talked to Bill Bartholomay of the Braves. Recently, when the Giants were in Atlanta, Bartholomay answered a direct question about Milwaukee's chances with a direct answer: "I wouldn't say no if the nine other owners wanted Milwauee but there isn't a chance of that."

Well, anyway, the National League finally expanded, as Horace Stoneham said, "in a defensive measure or protective measure if you want to call it that."

Maris' Key Blow Wins For Cards

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Roger Maris' tender heel probably hurts a lot less than Phil Niekro's scraped knuckles after their most recent duel at 60 feet, 6 inches.

Maris limped out of St. Louis' starting line-up last night with a bruised heel after smashing a two-run third inning homer that knocked out knuckleballer Niekro and powered the Cardinals to a 4-3 victory over the Atlanta Braves.

SNAPS TIE

After the ailing outfielder's third homer snapped a 2-2 tie, southpaw Larry Jaster and rookie reliever Wayne Granger made it stand up as the National League leaders beat the Braves for the ninth time in their last nine meetings, beginning last season.

The New York Mets nipped Los Angeles 1-0 in 10 innings on Tom Seaver's four-hitter and Al Weis' run-scoring single; San Francisco whipped Pittsburgh 8-0 behind Juan Marichal and the Chicago Cubs downed Cincinnati 4-3. Houston and Philadelphia were idle.

FIFTH LOSS

Maris' homer, which followed a double by Lou Brock, saddled Niekro with his fifth loss in 10 decisions while inflating his earned run average to 4.19. Last year, the Braves' flutterball artist paced major league starting pitchers with a 1.87 ERA, allowing just 43 earned runs in 46 appearances. This year, he has yielded 38 in 13 games.

"His knuckleball's not as good as last year," observed Cards' slugger Orlando Cepeda. "It's easier to follow."

The Cardinals scored two second inning runs on singles by Cepeda, Tim McCarver and Mike Shannon plus a ground out. Deron Johnson and Bob Tillman tagged Jaster for homers in the bottom of the second, tying it 2-2.

Granger replaced Jaster, 5-2, in the eighth with two on and one out, gave up a run-scoring single to Hank Aaron and then got Joe Torre to bounce into a double play before checking the Braves in the ninth.

STOP STREAK

Seaver stopped the Dodgers' winning streak at seven games in a tight duel with loser Don Sutton, who allowed only three hits until the 10th. Then Ron Swoboda walked, took third on Kevin Collins' single and scored the game's only run on Weis' single to center.

The victory gave Seaver a 4-5 mark while Sutton, who struck out 10 slipped to 3-6 on the year.

BANKS HITS TWO

Chicago's Ernie Banks clubbed his 10th and 11th homers, but the Cubs fell behind 3-2 before overtaking Cincinnati on Billy Williams' two-run double in the seventh.

Left-hander Ken Holtzman picked up his fifth victory against four losses with late inning help from relievers Chuck Hartenstein and Phil Regan.

COMBINED AP & UPI

NEW ORLEANS — Former heavyweight champion Cassius Clay yesterday lost his appeal for a rehearing of his conviction for refusing induction into the armed forces before the U.S. 5th Circuit Court of Appeals.

The court's refusal means Clay's only legal route left is to the U.S. Supreme Court.

Clay had asked for a rehearing by all of the circuit's 13 judges sitting together as a body.

But Circuit Judges Robert A. Ainsworth Jr., James P. Coleman and David W. Dyer, meeting as a panel, upheld Clay's conviction in May 6 ruling which rejected his argument he was a conscientious objector because he was an ordained minister of the Black Muslim Church.

The FISHIN' FOOL

By RALPH STEVENS
I-J Fish and Game Writer

It's Worth Effort To Go After Salmon, Striped Bass

STEVENS

The phone rang. I lifted the receiver, there was a mumble of voices, then one voice took over. "Is it worth while to go out after salmon? Are any salmon being caught?" the voice asked. Apparently an argument had arrisen by a group in Marin. Here is what I replied: "As to whether it is worth while to go outside after salmon, you be the judge."

A brief summary of Saturday's catch follows: From Caruso's headquarters in Sausalito — The Ma Ru boated 7 salmon to 24 pounds; the Salmon Queen unloaded 10 to 15 pounds, Sea Wolf had 14 salmon to 20 pounds; the Sea Sport showed 10 to 18 pounds, the Hurricane had 9 to 15 pounds and the Marion took 9 to 15 pounds.

From Lee Anderson's headquarters in Oakland — the Sea Wolf, with Cap Hoppy, netted 14 nice salmon to 20 pounds (Cap Hoppy reported many salmon hooked but not landed); Hal Boenner reported the Sea Horse with 12 salmon to 18 pounds, the Hazel had 6 to 16 pounds and the Chinook boxed an even dozen salmon to 20 pounds.

ALL BOATS featured Point Reyes as the field of battle. Tony Caruso reported that striper striving paid off big when fishing in the Alcatraz locale. Reports have it, also, that fair to good results—live bait angling—in Racoon Strait.

So, you must admit that fishing for salmon as well as stripers is well worth the effort to participate.

BACK COUNTRY angling has continued yielding long strings of shad with the scene of action being the upper Yuba River above Yuba City and the Feather River. Better try your luck soon, the runs are starting to slow up already.

LATE REPORTS indicate that the Shasta Lake action has slowed, perhaps because of the many high speed outboard and inboard motors churning the waters.

SOME FOLKS claim that any fish taken on rod and reel has a twin in the same waters. If that is true, someone fishing the Tomales Bay area will catch a mate to the monster bass taken by Marrianne Clahan of Tomales Bay. Marrianne also took the monster's little brother, the same trip in the same area, a 31-pounder.

SEEMS LIKE the "Snaggers" are at it again. Nineteen citations were given for the illegal snagging of trout. The spawning trout are easy to snag while in the course of spawning. An emergency order closed all tributaries of Lake Davis in Plumas County through June 10, so you may get in a mighty rewarding trip now. The spawning is about over, so the trout won't be so easily taken; snagged or orthodox reel and rod work.

Claude Ruel To Coach Canadiens

MONTREAL (UPI)—All National Hockey League clubs, including the six expansion teams, were ordered to submit their protective lists today for tomorrow's draft.

Each club was permitted to protect 14 players plus two goaltenders in the annual move to strengthen the weak sisters of the league.

The big splash in yesterday's opening of the four-day meetings was Montreal's selection of former Canadien player Claude Ruel to replace hector "Toe" Blake as coach of the NHL's Stanley Cup champions.

Blake stepped down after leading Montreal to eight Cup titles in 13 years. He was named an assistant to vice president and general manager Sam Pollack. His club beat St. Louis for the title last month.

Eckert's Office Denies Charges Hurled At It

NEW YORK (AP) —Baseball Commissioner William D. Eckert did not leave it up to the individual clubs whether to play their weekend games and did not consult with the owners before making his decision, a spokesman said last night.

Joseph L. Reichler, director of public relations for the commissioner's office, said Eckert ordered that all weekend games be played but that no Saturday contests start until after the funeral of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, which originally was scheduled for 5:30 p.m., EDT, but delayed more than five hours.

The commissioner consented to postponements in Washington, New York and San Francisco on Saturday and in Boston and Baltimore on Sunday at the request of those teams, Reichler said. Any other home team that wanted to call off a game also would have needed such consent, he added.

Novato Youth Is Named To Grid-Scholar Squad

Marty Moroski, 14-year-old member of the 1967 Novato Junior Hornets Pop Warner football team, is one of 36 boys named to the National Pop Warner Scholar team, it was announced yesterday by Ruth Dauernheim, Junior Hornets publicity chairman.

Marty is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Moroski of 9 Terry Circle, Novato. His father is principal of San Marin High School, now under construction.

As a winner in the national contest, Marty will take a trip to San Antonio, Tex., to visit the Hemisfair in July.

In May, young Moroski was chosen as the 1967 winner of the $200 college scholarship given annually by the sponsoring Marin Boys Club. As Marin County's winner, Marty's name was submitted along with 300 others to the National Pop Warner Council for nationwide competition.

Just finishing the eighth grade at San Jose Junior High School, Marty has maintained a straight-A average during the past two years.

Boog Powell Off To Good Start

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Harry Dalton's pre-season operation has turned out so successfully that even Boog Powell no longer feels the pain.

Powell was an unhappy patient when the Baltimore Orioles' director of personnel insisted that the big first baseman take a pay cut last spring. Powell held out for a while but then went under the knife to the tune of about $3,000 —modest enough surgery considering his .234 batting average, 13 homers and 55 runs batted in for the 1967 season.

But now the 250-pound Boog is off to the fastest start of his career with a .250 batting average, eight homers and 37 runs batted in and able to quip, "I'm always happy when I'm hitting my weight this early in the season." Powell has been a notorious slow starter throughout his career even when he was one of the American League's most dangerous sluggers in 1966.

"I'm not aware that I'm doing anything different," said Powell last night after driving in two runs and scoring another in the Orioles' 4-1 victory over the Washington Senators. "But I like what's happening."

Powell drove in a run with a sacrifice fly in the first inning, broke a 1-1 tie when he singled home Curt Motton, who had doubled, in the third and scored on a sacrifice fly by Curt Blefary in the sixth as the Orioles beat the Senators for the eighth straight time this season. Jim Hardin pitched a four-hitter, struck out three and walked none in raising his record to 8-2.

The Cleveland Indians defeated the Oakland Akthletics 7-2 an the Chicago White Sox beat the New York Yankees 5-2 in other American League games.

Luis Aparicio, a doubtful starter because of an ailing leg, doubled in the tie-breaking run in a three-run ninth inning as the White Sox' Wilbur Wood won his fourth game of the season and Dooley Womack, star relief pitcher of the Yankees in 1967, suffered his fifth straight loss this season.

Sohner Wins Doubleheader

Sohner Tree Service softball team of San Anselmo swept a Golden Gate League doubleheader from Koss Supply team in San Francisco Saturday night, 7-0 and 8-4.

In boosting their season won-lost record to 31-11, the Treemen were led by Dave Shallenberger's 2-hit, 12-strikeout pitching in the opener, his second consecutive shutout, while Gary Swarm coasted to victory in the nightcap with the aid of a seven-run fourth inning Sohner explosion.

Swarm and Nolan Wilson each collected four hits in the two games while Jess Munyon contributed a home run in the nightcap.

Reports Stall Lagunitas School Budget Approval

The Lagunitas School District board discussed its proposed 1968-69 budget of $365,900 last night, but is awaiting final reports on income before adoption, expected at its next meeting July 24 at 8 p.m.

Supt. Marshall J. McCuniff said the budget figure of $344,313, reported in yesterday's Independent-Journal, was incorrect.

The new budget will not affect the district's present tax rate of $2.65 per $100 of assessed valuation, McCuniff said.

The board will interview on July 20 candidates to fill the vacancy created last month by the resignation of trustee Richard T. Fryenlund. Two letters have been received from candidates McCunniff said.

The Lagunitas District School board also:

Boat Owner Reports Petaluma River Shot

A Novato man reported that someone fired at his 18-foot cabin cruiser while he was traveling on the Petaluma River Saturday, sheriff's officers said today.

Arthur Muniz of 778 Clausing Avenue, told deputies the shot —apparently from a small caliber gun—struck his boat's forward hatch about 25 yards west of the Sonoma County shore on the river near the Highway 37 bridge. Muniz was uninjured.

Suspect's Sister Tells Of Her Rug

The sister of Kenneth Allen Preston, who is accused of a Santa Venetia double murder last winter, today told a Marin Superior Court jury today that she has a carpet identical to the one found at the murder scene.

A state criminologist testified Friday that he found fibers from a carpet and throw rug in the Santa Venetia trailer of murder victims Curtis and Shirley Akley, on the trousers and T-shirt Preston wore when arrested two days after the killings.

Mrs. Christine Becerra, who said her brother visited her home on the average of twice a week, said the carpet from the Ackley trailer house is identical to the one in her living room.

Her 20-year-old brother could have picked up fibers from her rug while playing on the floor with her year-old son, she said.

She also testified that she is certain Preston was in her home the week of the Jan. 12 murders.

Under cross-examiniation, Mrs. Becerra said she does not have a rug identical to the throw rug found in the Ackleys' trailer house.

Also testifying this morning was Dr. Robert B. Schneider, a pathologist, who traced the paths of bullets found in the skulls of Mr. and Mrs. Ackley.

Edwin Verzyl, attorney for Preston, has said he will prove the couple was slain by a right handed man. Preston is left handed.

Dr. Schneider said that, as a medical man, he has no way of knowing whether a left or a right-handed man fired the shots.

Heir Seeking Sentence Change

PASADENA (UPI) — Timothy Nicholson, 25, wealthy railroad heir convicted of manslaughter in the 1964 shooting of his twin brother, has asked that his 1-10 year prison sentence be modified.

Superior Judge H. Burton Noble yesterday ordered a supplementary probation report prepared and directed Nicholson to appear June 27 for a ruling.

Nicholson was convicted of manslaughter in June 1965 after his twin brother, Todd, was fatally shot during an argument in the twins' $400,000 apartment building in Temple City.

Six Burglary Cases Listed By Deputies

Six burglaries including breakins of two vehicles at Gate 6, Marinship, were reported today by sheriff's deputies.

Linda C. Cimoli, 30 Linda Vista Way, Tiburon, told officers the left ventilator wing of her car was forced Saturday and a purse was stolen. The purse later was found nearby, deputies said.

James R. Walker, 183 Mark Twain Avenue, San Rafael, said his car was entered Sunday by breaking a window. An unsuccessful attempt was made to remove the car's stereophonic set, he added.

Riding equipment including two saddles, a bridle, a halter, and a saddle pad, all owned by Lurah Magee, 758 Appleberry Drive, Marinwood, were taken in a burglary Sunday of a tack room on the Smith Ranch, Old Lucas Valley Road, deputies said.

The items were found discarded nearby, they added.

Charles J. Contini, 791 Calle De La Mesa, Loma Verde, told deputies Saturday someone entered his unlocked garage, then cut a hole in wallboard to gain entrance to his kitchen. Nothing was believed taken.

Burglars apparently entered an unlocked window of the Inverness summer home of Elizabeth E. Brock of Orinda, she reported Saturday. A small quantity of bedding was stolen.

Bedding and cooking utensils were taken from a weekend cabin on Alta Avenue, Lagunitas, owner Gabriel D. Farrante of San Francisco reported Saturday. No forced entry was evident.

May Employment Over 7 Million

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Civilian employment in California rose to a record 7,641,000 in May, state officials reported today.

The figure represented a gain of 256,000 or 3.5 per cent from May a year ago, officials said, while unemployment dipped by 34,000 to 344,000 from the year-old figure.

$50,000 Home Lost By Fire In Tiburon

A Mill Valley family's $50,000 Tiburon home was destroyed yesterday by a hot, smoky fire, begun while they were moving in.

Mrs. R. Neill Smith had left the Tiburon house at 3825 Paradise Drive to return to the family home at 166 Helens Lane, Mill Valley, when smoke was reported to the Tiburon Fire Department at 2:38 p.m., according to fire chief Franklin J. Buscher.

Contents estimated at $10,000 were lost, but firemen saved some tools and equipment from the garage. Brisk gusts of wind fanned the flames into a roaring, smoke-filled blaze on a hillside above Paradise Drive below Tanfield Road.

The fire spread and burned 15 acrea of grass around the house.

Mrs. Smith said she left a fire burning debris in the fireplace of the Tiburon house when she returned to Mill Valley. Firemen are investigating the cause of the blaze.

Seven Tiburon firemen first on the scene were hampered by the lack of water supply for fire fighting within one-half mile of the residence. Tanker trucks were used to relay water uphill to the engine.

The Marin County Fire Department sent a tanker to aid them. Alto-Richardson Bay Fire Department sent an engine and the Tamalpais Fire Department supplied two trucks.

It took two hours to get the fire under control, Buscher estimated. Capt. Edward J. Parnell of the Tiburon department suffered a second-degree burn on his left wrist. That was the only injury from the fire.

PARADE, SHOW IN 1945

Novato Horsemen Inc. Played Leading Role In Weekend Start

For many years, Novato has been known as a horseman's area. And, after World War II, the Novato Horsemen Inc., played a leading role in the start of the annual Western Weekend celebration.

The first parade and horse show were held on June 3, 1945, only two months after the Novato Horsemen opened the doors of their clubhouse on Bugeia Lane with 16 charter members. Today the membership totals 80.

The Horsemen were first organized in 1942 by a group of persons interested in riding. The first meeting was held under a group of trees on the Rancho Del Do-Lo of Dr. Hans Barkan at 2100 Novato Boulevard.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Tharp of 775 Atherton Avenue, charter members of the club, volunteered the use of one end of their stable for a club meeting place. The club used the Tharp stable for one year.

During this time, the late Sid Lowenthal worked to finance a clubhouse and grounds for a permanent home. Each member donated $100, enough to purchase four acres from John Bugeia for $1,600.

Material from the Forbes Mansion in San Rafael was used to construct the clubhouse since Ralph Briggs, contractor and club member, was tearing down the structure at the time. Total construction cost was $750.

Joseph C. Wayne of 151 Crest Road headed the committee to construct the first arena.

For the first parade, the association members met at the west end of Novato and rode their horses to the clubhouse and arena where the horse show was held. The parade and show were very popular and soon drew larger crowds each year.

In 1958, a rodeo replaced the horse show and, at first, the rodeo was put on by local riders. As the show grew, professional cowboys were enticed into entering the rodeo and professional stock was hired.

Cotton Rosser of the Flying U Ranch in Marysville has been the stock contractor since 1958 and the Rodeo Cowboy's Association has sponsored the Rodeo. The Novato rodeo is the biggest one-day event in Marin County and is traditionally held on Father's Day.

For the fourth annual show in 1948, there were 236 entries in 10 events with an audience of 1,000 persons. In 1965, 4,000 attended the two day rodeo; in 1966, a one-day rodeo attracted 3,000 and last year 4,000 were at the one-day rodeo.

This year, $5,000 in prize money will be taken home by the top cowboys in the various events.

The Novato Horsemen still hold their horse show and the most recent one was put on last month with a record 573 entries from Northern California and Nevada.

And the horsemen still participate in the rodeo which is only open to members of the rodeo cowboy's association and Novato residents.

More Than 150 Signed For Cross Country Race

The fifth annual cross country ridge run will be held Saturday starting at 9 a.m. at the Novato Fire Station, 1000 Grant Avenue.

More than 150 runners have entered the race so far, according to John Disty, president of the Marin Athletic Club, sponsors of the race. The contest, one of the most popular events of the Western Weekend celebration, is financed by Western Weekend Inc.

All runners must be registered amateurs with the Pacific Association of the Amateur Athletic Union, Disty said. The Marin Athletic Club is affiliated with the AAU.

Although the race does not start until 9 a.m., runners are to report to the fire house at 7:30 a.m. to get organized. Spectators may watch the beginning and end of the race but are not allowed to follow the runners. No automobiles, bicycles, vehicles nor runners not entered in the race may pace the runners, Disty said, and only officials and official cars may follow the race.

Trophies will be awarded to the top three contestants and medals will be given to the next 75 racers. Ribbons will be awarded to all runners who finish the 6.87 mile race.

A special prize will be awarded to the first high school runner and another will also be given to the first runner over 45 years old who crosses the finish line.

The runners are required to stay on roads or marked trails. Cutting corners or using sidewalks will result in disqualification.

The race will start at the firehouse, go west on Grant Avenue to Novato Boulevard and out Novato Boulevard to McClay Road, down McClay Road to Center Road. It will then go left on Center Road to Tamalpais Avenue and then right to Hill Road, up Hill Road to Canyon Road and up Canyon, then on Ridge and Half Moon roads to the water tower. From there it will go down the trail to Indian Valley Road, left on Indian Valley Road to Diablo Avenue, then to Novato Boulevard, left to Tamalpais Avenue to Grant Avenue and back to the fire station.

Officials' List From Contestants

Because knowledge of animals is involved, the Rodeo Cowboys Association has found the best officials come from among active contestants. By rule, the association says a judge must be a cowboy who has contested within the last twelve months. They feel a longer period of inactivity would dull his ability to evaluate how hard the bucking stock is to ride.

These men in the striped vests, paid in ratio to the size of the rodeo's purse, are judging horses and bulls, marking each from 1 to 25 on how hard he bucks. They are scoring the rider in a similar point spread on how well he spurs and the degree of control he displays.

Often the word "spur" is badly misconstrued because it has become identified in most minds as hide-splitting jabs with a sharp instrument. This couldn't be further from the meaning of rodeo's usage of the term.

To give the animal every advantage, the cowboy is required to do something besides hang on for dear life. His spurring stroke —called "lick" by the cowboys —is as finely timed as a sprinter's "kick."

Spurs are dulled by rule. And, aside from this, the cause of many a rider's abrupt departure from his mount has been caused by a spur hanging up in the saddle or horse's mane. For this reason riders use a short-shanked spur with rowels no sharper than the edge of a nickel.

The scores you hear are the total of what both judges marked the animal and the rider. They stand on either side of the chute gate concentrating on that side of the ride. The first thing they look for — in saddle and bareback bronc riding — is whether the rider's feet are over the point of the horse's shoulders when the animal's front feet hit the ground, first jump out of the chute. If they see this didn't happen, the cowboy is disqualified. This can be harder to see than our imaginary umpire detetrmining whether a man was safe or out.

EIGHT LONG SECONDS

Tough cowboys ride the bucking bull trying to stay on for eight seconds at the rodeo to be held at 1 p.m. Sunday at the rodeo grounds on Bugeia Lane. The show, sponsored by the Novato Horsemen's Association, will offer $5,000 in awards this year to winners in various competitions.

Cowboys Competing For $2,000 At Novato Sunday Rodeo Event

Cowboys will compete for an estimated $2,000 in purse money and entry fees at 1 p.m. Sunday at Novato's ninth annual Horsemen's rodeo at the rodeo grounds on Bugeia Lane.

Last year's competition here saw 106 big-hatted entries vie for $4,210 at stake in six events, saddle and bareback bronc riding, bull riding, calf roping, steer wrestling and team roping.

Lion's share of the prize money packet was handed Harley May, Oakdale cowboy who won all-around honors and $394. He placed in bareback bronc riding, steer wrestling and team roping and won the saddle bronc riding event.

May, 41, has won over a quarter-million dollars and three championships during his 16 years as member of the Rodeo Cowboys Association.

Other event winners here in Novato last year were: Ellie Lewis, Okanagan Falls, B.C., bareback bronc riding; Lee Farris, Sebastopol, calf roping; Rolfe Graham, Fort Laramie, Wyo., steer wrestling; Chris Howell, Canoga Park, bull riding; and in team roping, Vince Shammo, another Oakdale cowboy, and Ron Bigon, Santa Rosa, won the average.

As one of more than 500 such cowboy contests approved each year by the professional Rodeo Cowboys Association—524 were held in 1966—competition in the Novato arena is conducted under nationally recognized rules.

Nineteen of these rules deal directly with proper care and treatment of rodeo livestock and were written by the cowboy organization in conjunction with a national humane association.

Prize money won by contestants here will be credited to their individual standing in the race for the 1967 rodeo championships. These titles, carrying $24,000 in award money, go to the top money winner in each event category at the end of the season.

Among cowboys on the early entry log for this year's rodeo is Bill Kornell, Clarksville, Texas. Currently in 11th place in the bull riding standings, he won both "Rookie of the Year" and the bull riding championship in 1963 at the age of 19.

Cotton Rosser's Flying U Rodeo Co. of Marysville will again furnish the bucking stock for the Novato rodeo.

Arena entries close at 6 p.m. Saturday, according to Lloyd Loftus, rodeo committeeman.

BUCKING BRAHMA BUSTERS

Thrills and chills at the annual Western Weekend rodeo with bucking bronchos and brahma bulls, calf roping and riding events. This cowboy, tossed high and hard from his bucking bull, will be one of the many professionals seeking to share in the $5,000 prize money at this year's rodeo which starts at 1 p.m. Sunday at the rodeo grounds on Bugeia Lane in Novato.

'No Time' Rule

When a flag fieldman waves "no time" it means that the contestant has not caught or thrown his animal properly. The contestant receives "no time" on that animal in that go-round but is still entitled to compete in the next go-round.

Parade Official

Carter B. Smith, KSFO disc jockey, was master of ceremonies of the 1967 Western Weekend parade which was held in the evening last year.

How Prizes Paid

Contestants in rodeos with more than one go-round are paid off in prize money for the best ride or time in each go-round and for the best average of all go-rounds.

Wait, Horse

The barrier is a rope stretched across the front end of the box from which the roper's or steer wrestler's horse comes when the barrier flag drops. According to the arena conditions, the stock is given a pre-determined head start, or score, marked by a scoreline.

Restricted Contest

A closed event is an event at an approved rodeo that is not open to all members in good standing of the Rodeo Cowboys Association. In order for an approved rodeo to have a local closed event, it must have the same event for members of the association.

Rodeo, Born On A Bet, Is Last Frontier Of The Once Wild West

Rodeo is a last frontier of the wild west. It was born on a bet, and bred of the same circumstances of history that created the once sinful cities of Dodge and Abilene.

It began shortly after Texans came home from the Civil War, to find that their longhorn herds had multiplied unchecked. Southern cattle markets, already depressed by the collapse of the Confederacy, were soon glutted. So the Texans turned their herds to the north and to the west, driving them across the plains, first to better markets, then to encroaching railheads at Abilene and Wichita and Dodge, later to the greener pastures that stretched across the great plains.

Trail drivers were tough and independent, who lived in the saddle and slept in the open. They drove the sword-armed cattle through drouth and dust and blizzard, across some of the wildest country man has pioneered.

Occasionally they would hit a trail town, where they blew off enough steam in that brief moment of history to keep four generations of fiction writers busy ever since.

Between towns they made up their own amusement. These tough hands created a recreation that was typically tough. The hands of the different cattle outfits coming together on the trail or at roundup time, bet their scant wages on their skill at riding rank broncs or roping longhorn steers. It was a rough sport for short stakes. The prize money—the cowboys own bets — was held in a hat.

This was the era of the torchlight parade, the Fourth-of-July oration, the town bandshell on the courthouse square. In a generation of proud and bustling burghers who liked their civic celebrations big and wild, the building townsmen of the western frontier were the busiest, the proudest and the wildest of all.

They went out on the plains and invited the cowboys to bring their contests into town. At Cheyenne, Wyo., in 1872, the townsfolk gathered at the settlement edge to watch some Texans try to ride the wild stock.

At Pecos, Texas, in 1883, they penned the longhorns on the courthouse lawn and roped them down main street. At Prescott, Ariz., five years later they built a grandstand and sold tickets.

In a short generation the wild west settled down. The open range was fenced and posted, the gunfighters were hunted down and hanged and the front street saloons were closed. But throughout the west the best of the rough string riders and the toughest hands with a rope, still rode for the money at the contests the townsmen kept alive.

They still do. At Cheyenne, where they call it Frontier Days. At Calgary, where it's a Stampede. At Salinas and Pendleton and Denver and Fort Worth. In nearly 600 communities in the United States and Canada the cowboy contests are put on by the townsmen who serve on the committee without pay to keep the frontier spirit alive in a city-wide bust the whole town turns out to see.

Sunday Parade Draws More Than 110 Entries

The bang of the drum and the clop of horse hoofs will again signal the annual Western Weekend parade, starting this year at 2 p.m. Saturday on Grant Avenue and First Street.

The parade, which usually runs over two hours, is expected to draw large crowds. More than 110 entries have been signed up by the Novato Junior Chamber of Commerce parade sponsors.

Bands, floats, horses, drill teams, drum and bugle corps, comic cars, politicians, old cars and clowns all will be a part of the popular event.

The Marin Marines Color Guard will lead the parade and the Army band from the Presidio also will march. A highlight of the parade will be the Wells Fargo stagecoach.

The Lone Ranger will ride again and Marin Aviation from the Marin County airport at Novato will provide an airplane as a parade float.

Eight professional constructed floats will roll down Novato's streets, as will 12 horseless carriages.

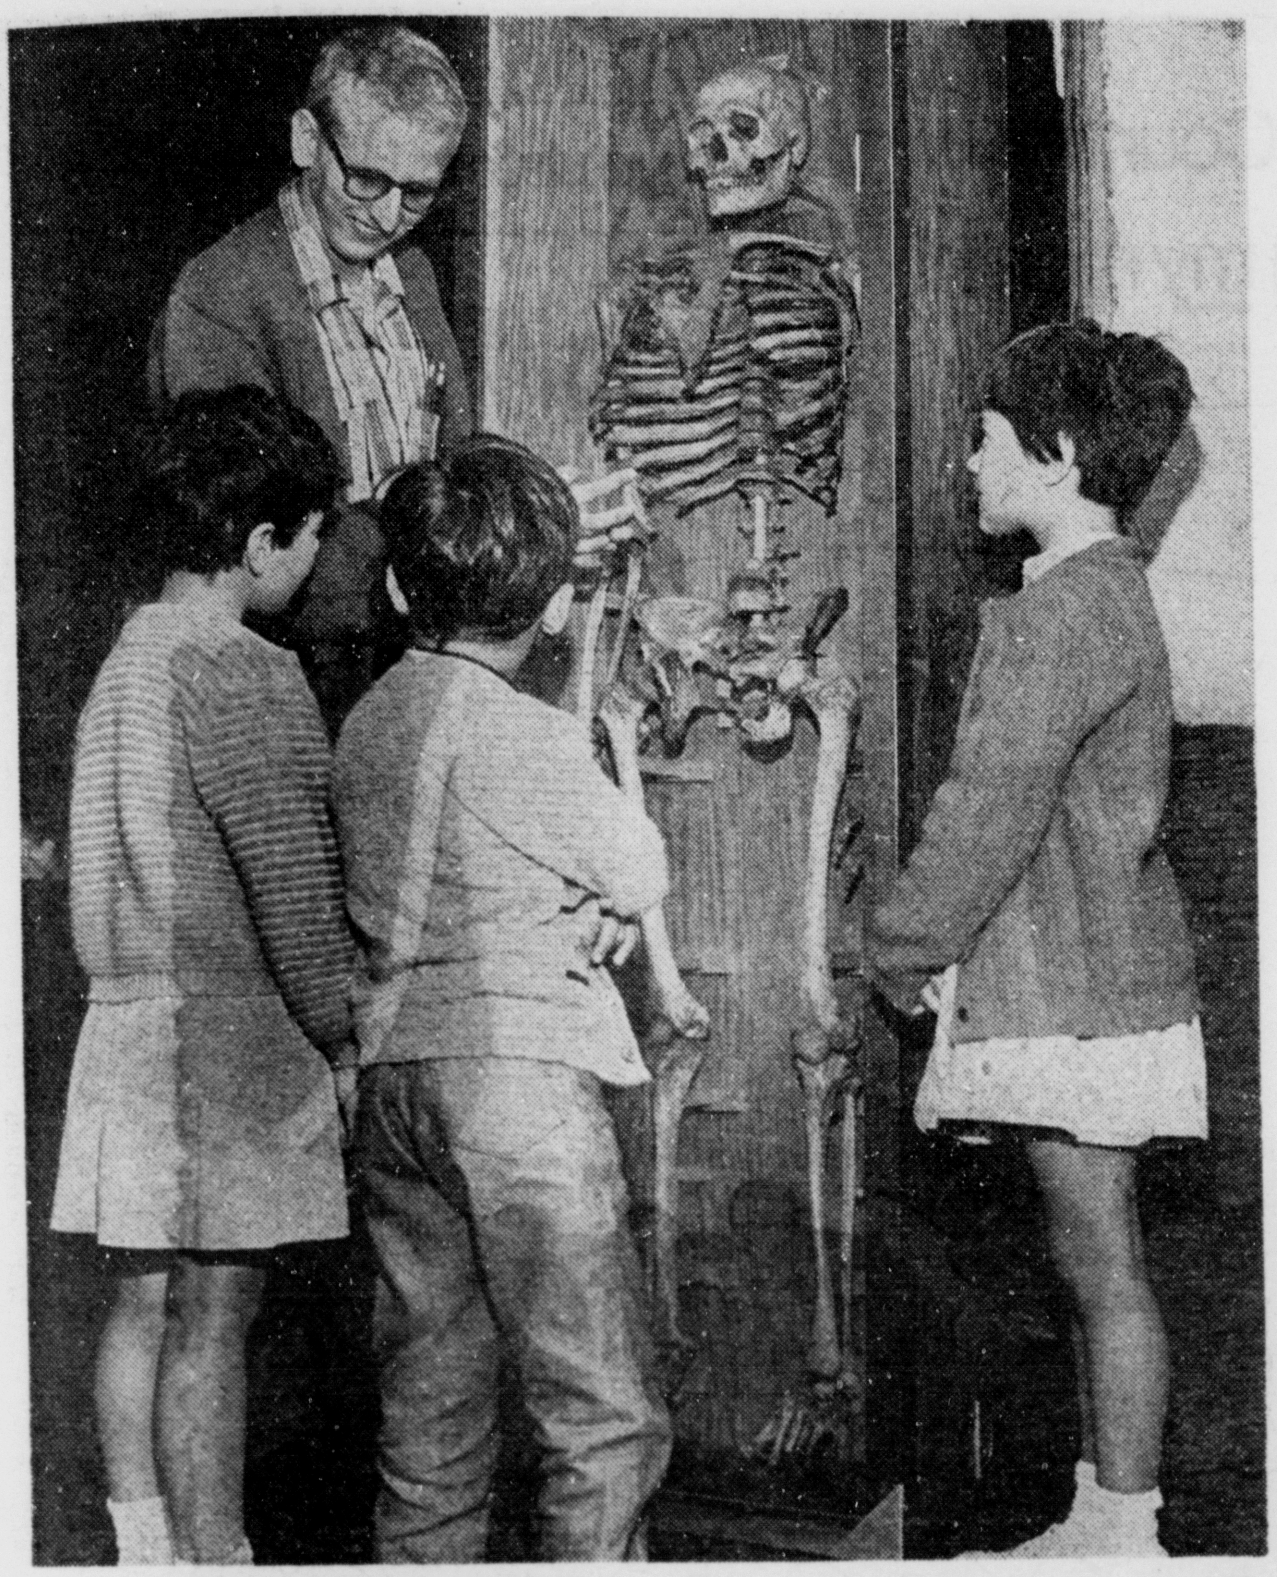
Beauty will be added by Western Weekend Queen Patty Villa and her two princesses, Janice Kimball and Nancy Lehigh. The three girls dressed in western attire will ride their horses in the parade.

Another parade highlight will be the return of George Marshall to Novato. Sporting a great gray beard, he will ride in an antique car.

Marshall, 87, was manager of the Novato Chamber of Commerce from 1954 to 1959 and helped organize the first Western Weekend celebration.

Among the many cash prizes for the paraders will be a $100 award to the best float and a $50 award to the runner-up. Winners in the drum and bugle corps division will receive $150 for first place, $125 for second place, $100 for third place and $75 for fourth place. Drill team winners will awarded $50 for first place and $25 for second place.

The parade will follow a route similar to last year, beginning at First Street and Grant Avenue. It will proceed west on Grant Avenue, go up Virginia Lane to Simmons Lane and disperse at Pioneer Memorial Park.



VISITOR—Clyde, Novato's Miwok Indian skeleton, will be returning home this week to highlight the Prehistory of Marin exhibit at the block house of the St. Francis Episcopal Church, Fifth Street and Grant Avenue, Saturday and Sunday. Clyde has been on display for the past year at the Louise A. Boyd Museum where three young visitors, children of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kallianiotis of Corte Madera, hear about Clyde from David Dippel of Novato, president of the Novato Prehistory Museum. Clyde, Ancient Miwok Skeleton, Returning To Visit Home Town

Clyde is returning to Novato to visit his hometown.

Novatans will have an opportunity to renew their acquaintance with Clyde next week when he will be on display at the Prehistory of Marin exhibit in Block Hall at the St. Francis Episcopal Church, Fifth Street and Grant Avenue, during Western Weekend.

The exhibit will be open from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday and from noon to 6 p.m. Sunday.

Clyde, for those who haven't met him yet, is the skeleton of an ancient Coast Miwok Indian who was unearthed at a burial site on Novato Creek by members of the Novato High School archaeology club in 1964.

Following the find, 20 club members spent two years piecing Clyde's bones together. Last year Clyde, all in one piece again, was placed in a special case and set up for viewing during Western Weekend. At the end of the weekend, he was shipped to the Louise A. Boyd Museum in San Rafael where he has remained on display.

Clyde, although not the first Miwok Indian skeleton unearthed in Marin County, is by far the most complete, according to John McBeath, social studies instructor at Novato High School. Over 30 other partial skeletons have been found.

Because of his excellent condition, Clyde may have died as recently as 150 years ago, according to David Dippel, president of the Marin Museum Society. The Miwoks lived along the coast of California, primarily in Marin County from around 1400 to 1850 A.D., Dippel said. Club members have heard of one surviving Miwok but have been unable to find him.

A major problem facing the club was what to do with artifacts discovered at the various digs. Two of the club members formed the museum group in September 1966 and the organization was incorporated in May 1967.

Dippel, of 119 Grande Vista Avenue, Novato, was the person who first uncovered Clyde at the Novato Creek site. Until Clyde was installed in his case, he lived in Dippel's attic.

The Marin Museum Society, also known as the Novato Prehistory Museum, started in 1963 with experimental summer school class in anthropology taught by McBeath.

From 1963 to 1966, McBeath trained students in the techniques of arcaeology. In 1966, the Novato High School Archaeology Club was formed to conduct digs. Since then the group has spent many hours digging at burial mounds in Novato and in Tiburon, at sites unearthed last year.

Since incorporation, the Novato Prehistoric Museum has worked to establish a museum in Novato. So far the club has been unsuccessful and the findings are exhibited at the Boyd Museum.

The club needs financial assistance, a building and members. Dippel is hopeful that Clyde, having come home for a brief visit, will inspire Novatans to help the museum society find a permanent home for him in Novato.

STAGE ROLLS FOR WESTERN WEEKEND

A replica of the famous old Concord Stage rolled through Novato last year thrilling youngsters with a taste of the old West. This year the Wells Fargo Stage Coach has been scheduled to participate in the annual Western Weekend parade at 2 p.m. Saturday at Grant Avenue and First Street. The Wells Fargo Stage Coach was used by Buffalo Bill Cody in his wild west show which toured the United States and Europe.
